What To Do with Association Land?

A MASTER landscaping plan that would "unify with trees" Orinda's north and south shopping areas has been presented to the Orinda Beautification Committee by Robert Babcock, landscape architect. The plan is to integrate new planting with existing trees and shrubs. Outlined at left, center, is first step in this beautification project. The plan will be shown to various civic organizations as a goal for Orinda to work toward during the next few years.

'Community Must Okay Any plans'---Report

Directors of the Orinda Association are presently studying a subcommittee's recommendations in regard to use of association-owned land.

Action on the report is probably forthcoming at their March 26 meeting.

Harry Fledderman, vice president of the association, and chairman of the civic affairs committee, presented the report at Monday's meeting of the association.

The report itself was authored by a subcommittee of the civic affairs committee. Members of the civic affairs committee approved the report two weeks ago and recommended it for presentation to the directors.

Because copies of the report were not available for all directors Monday, action on the report was delayed.

POSSIBLE use of the association land will be a prime topic at the annual membership meeting to be held in April or May.

Seven general recommendations were made by the committee to the directors.

The first and probably most important one was that "no development (of property) should be undertaken unless broad agreement exists in the community as to a real need which can be met by the development and a willingness to assume the financial burdens."

The Orinda Association land consists of 9.83 acres located near the southwest corner of the intersection of the Walnut freeway and the San Pablo Dam Road. An option to purchase 6.24 acres adjacent to the property for $21,840 expires in May, 1963.

THE REPORT made clear that there is much to know about the association land before any decision as to the use of the property can be made.

The report suggests there are two possible uses of the property—as a community center or for recreational purposes.

However, a second recommendation was that "greater efforts should be made to interest residents in the property and its possible uses. It also points out that "it might be desirable to place a large sign on the property to call attention to it and to schedule a tour or an event at the property."

In a section entitled "Determination of Need," the report states that "the ultimate question of what is the greatest community need that can be served by his property can be answered either by lay citizens of Orinda or by expert, or by a combination of these groups."

THE UNIVERSITY of California or a private foundation interested in the subject matter might serve in the design and evaluation of uses for the property.

In a foreword to the detailed report, the committee pointed out that they found a very limited knowledge and interest in the property by the community at the present time.

They mentioned that this was perhaps due mainly to lack of sustained communications to the community regarding the property and stated that many in the community do not know where the property is located.

The report mentioned the committee's belief that no project be undertaken "without the broadest base of support and interest of the local citizens." The committee made this recommendation "in view of the responsibility imposed upon local citizens to finance any development."

THE "EXPERT" advice is needed to examine present available community facilities against desirable norms and reach a conclusion, the report noted.

And, "for an intelligent response to be made by the residents, a broad informative program of alternatives and costs would first seem to be desirable," it was pointed out.

This is the reason why the assistance of a person or group well qualified in the design and evaluation of surveys and the counseling of community needs is desired, the report stated.

Under "Financial Consideration," the most likely methods of financing is through formation of a tax supported special district or through the incorporation of the Orinda areas as a city, the report stated.

Two other methods were mentioned (public contributions or a bank loan), but "use of either method would seem unlikely if the total developed cost exceeds $100,000 and the use was such that only nominal rental income could be anticipated."

The report pointed out that because of the undeveloped nature of the property, substantial costs would be incurred no matter what the use of the property.

The committee felt the figure would reach or exceed $50,000.

The cost of a facility or structure on the property is another matter and its price tag would depend on the size, etc., the report pointed out.

Here Are Seven Subcommittee Suggestions

Here are the seven conclusions and recommendations made by the land use subcommittee of the civic affairs committee to the Orinda Association directors Monday night.

1. No development should be undertaken unless board agreement exists in the community as to a real need which can be met by the development and willingness to assume the financial burdens.

2. Greater efforts should be made to interest residents in this property and its possible uses. These might take the form of newspaper articles, pamphlets or other communications, and meetings. It might be desirable to place a large sign on the property to call attention to it and to schedule a tour or an event at the property.

3. Immediate steps should be taken to acquire more information concerning the property, such as boundary and topographical surveys and other "missing" information mentioned above. This information should be obtained immediately even at cost to the Orinda Association to be paid from its general funds.

4. Exploration of the Rapid Transit District's plans through direct contact with the Rapid Transit District should be commenced. Efforts should be made, if necessary, to extend the term of the option held on the adjoining land and the possible optioning of additional land should be explored with EBMUD.

5. A well designed "market" survey of residents should be undertaken by a competent group but means should be explored to obtain a high quality project through qualified personnel at no cost or at modest cost, such as through the university or possibly the Coro Foundation.

6. The possibility of a joint venture with or a lease of a portion of the land to any other community or recreational organization should be explored.

7. A permanent committee within the Orinda Association should be formed to implement this report. It is questionable whether the Civic Affairs Committee as presently organized, in view of our experience during the past year, should continue to have prime responsibility for the implementation of this project.

Jr. College 'Probe' To Start

Study Begins Monday; Still Time to Apply

Four days of marathon interviews delving into Contra Costa Junior College's "personnel problem" will begin Monday morning at 8 in the Concord Inn, room 38.

The study panel will have seven members, including a Napa superintendent of schools in charge of a junior college, and an Azusa superintendent of schools.

SEE PAGE 3 FOR OTHER STORIES

They will question perhaps 100 persons connected with the district, including teachers and administrators, on the relationships between Superintendent Drummond McCunn and his staff members.

THE PANEL will function under the auspices of the Personnel Standards Commission, a body of the California Teachers Association.

Panel members representing the California Association of School Administrators: Dr. Harry McPherson, superintendent of schools at Napa, including elementary and high schools and a junior college; Hilton Bell, superintendent of schools, at Azusa, also past president of CASA, now chairman of its ethics committee.

Representing the California Teachers Association: Karl Bengston, dean of admissions and instructor in economics at Hartnell Junior College, Salinas; Lewis Clohan, junior high teacher from San Jose and member of the Personnel Standards Commission.

Representing the California Junior College Association: Wendell Black, president of Harbor Junior College in Los Angeles.

REPRESENTING the California School Boards Association: Mrs. Elaine Brandstad, trustee at Stockton Unified School District; John McCrackin, trustee of Rio Vista District.

"The interviews will be conducted in confidence, and individually," said James Williamson, CTA personnel standards executive.

"The report which will be ready in the middle or end of April will not use the names of persons interviewed," he added.

Members of the public who have not applied to participants in the interviews may call OXford 7-1400, Burlingame, today, the number of the CTA office.

Beginning Sunday at 6 p.m., they may still participate by calling the Concord Inn and asking for Room 39, which will be the interview waiting room, said Williamson.

Decision Due on Rezoning Request For 365 Acres

A request to rezone 365 acres in Orinda from general agricultural to single family residential will be up for decision Tuesday night by the Contra Costa County Planning Commission.

The request had been up for decision previously but was postponed at that time.

The Tuesday hearing is closed and for decision only.

G & L Investment Corporation is seeking to have the 365-acre parcel rezoned in order to build homes valued at $40,000 to $60,000 on lots from 20,000 square feet to 40,000 square feet.

THE PARCEL is located at the northeasterly end of Lombardy Lane. It extends east to Happy Valley Road.

Representatives of three Orinda civic organizations voiced their objection to the development as of January 3 meeting when the firm's plan was aired.

Plans call for the building to proceed over an eight to 10-year period with a new sewer line to be installed and school sites made available.

However, the Orinda Association, Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association and the Happy Valley Improvement Association oppose the rezoning request.

The request to rezone the property originally came before the planning commission on January 2. The hearing was then closed and deferred to February 6.

Orinda Soldier In Arkansas

Pvt. William C. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Young, 246 Laespiral, Orinda, has been assigned to Company F, 399th Regiment, at Fort Chaffee, Ark., where he will receive his basic combat training.

The 399th Regiment is part of the 100th Division, an Army Reserve unit from Kentucky.

The 100th was the first division called to active duty in the current military build-up.

Free Want Ads for Kids If Folks Take The Sun!

A lot of boys and girls six to 14 years old will be placing free want ads in The Sun over the weekend through next Tuesday morning.

Children desiring to sell some of their toys or other articles may place a free want ad in The Sun if their parents are subscribers to one of the four Sun subscription newspapers.

The Walnut Creek Sun, Orinda Sun, Lafayette Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun are the most informative papers on local events in the central county.

The free want ad, up to 14 words, will run in the subscription papers and the 50,000-circulation Sun Shopping News.

There are some 13,000 families subscribing to The Sun, most of them with one or more children.

The boy or girl to place the ad must appear in person in The Sun office at either 1320 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, or 1001 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette.

The free want ad will run next Friday, also on March 14 and March 16.

"This is just a small reason for being a Sun subscriber. The big reason is the up-to-date coverage of local events and interesting features about your community neighbors," said Herman Silverman, Sun publisher.

JUST KIDDING, OF COURSE. But what happens if that gun is loaded? Little Brian Rush would be a dead duck, and Craig Rumph would be a pretty sorry young lad, because he's holding the gun. Countless children have been killed just because of such "horsing around" as this. Moral: Parents should not leave guns where children can get them. And, if children have guns, they should know how to handle them. Sun photo by Bob Rush.

Inland Valley Parents to Review Student Activities

The next general meeting of Inland Valley Parents will be held Wednesday. At this time Marvin Tripp and selected students will review the scope of extracurricular student activities at the school. The content of the program will explore such questions as the following:

(1) What extracurricular activities are available? (2) How many students participate? (3) What are the values in an "activities" program? (4) When and how often do these activities occur? (5) Do activities interfere with academics?

The following students will speak on behalf of the activity with which they are associated: Tom Parry, Dennis Truax, Jackie Singer, Viking Court; Paul Yriberri, club programs in general; Patty Mowrey, newspaper club; Mike McCarthy, science club; Bill Foley, projectionist club; Richard Hersey, drama club); Barbara Johnson, library asssitants; Gary Baker, Viking Varsity; Valerie Smith, GAA; John Jacob, golf club; Bob Grigsby, bridge; Bruce Van Voorhis, yearbook publication; Karen Bettencourt, graduation activities; Bill Carlson, stamp club.

Rotary Will Hear General

General Rollin B. Moore of the Air Force Reserve spoke to Orinda Rotary Club members at their meeting Wednesday.

He will discuss the role of the air force reserve in America's defense setup today.

This week, Lloyd Truman, past president of the North Oakland Rotary Club, showed films of his recent European tour. Included in the picture tour were films of Scotland, England, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France.

Boys, Dads Learn Dangers Of Handling Weapons

A BB gun used carelessly can put out an eye, or if the pellet penetrates into the brain, can kill a human being.

A .22 caliber rifle can kill a person up to a range of one mile.

Heavier caliber rifles can kill a person at a range of five miles.

THE PLEASURES and dangers of handling rifles and other weapons were described Monday night by Jim Monk and Bill Collins of the Walnut Creek Sportsmen's Club, before a fascinated audience of some 125 boys and their dads, at Acalanes High School.

This was The Sun's "Father-Son Rifle Safety Night," prompted by the fatal shooting of an eight-year-old boy two weeks ago.

The Sun and the sportsmen's club presented the session as a community service.

Monk in concise terms described the types of rifles and shotguns used in hunting, and the hunter safety course which he and other sportsmen club members conduct on a voluntary basis.

HE WARNED that a modern rifle when fired generates up to 52,000 pounds per square inch pressure in the cartridge chamber and keeping the rifle in good condition is a must.

Slides provided by the California Department of Fish and Game were shown, and depicted were many of the errors hunters make when handling their weapons.

There is also the mortal danger during deer season of being mistaken for a deer, but this can be reduced by wearing loudly colored clothing, Monk said.

The sportsmen's club sponsors a rifle range at Arnold Industrial Highway and Willow Pass Road, open Saturdays and Sundays from 9 to 3, he said.

MONK offered "10 commandments of shooting safety," as follows:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
2. Watch that muzzle.
3. Unload guns when not in use.
4. Be sure barrel is clear of obstructions.
5. BE SURE of target before you pull trigger.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
7. Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun.
8. Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or water.
9. Store guns and ammunition separately.
10. Avoid alcoholic beverages before or during shooting.

Contract Given For Improvement Of Ichabod Lane

Supervisor Mel F. Nielsen of District II announced today that the board of supervisors awarded a contract for improvement of Ichabod Lane, Orinda, to Lee J. Immel of San Pablo, who submitted a bid of $19,971.

It was the lowest of eight bids received.

The estimated construction cost was $22,060.

After the improvements are under Assessment District 1961-4. complete the road will be accepted into the county system under the road acceptance policy of the board of supervisors.

You Can Still Sign Up for 'Hunter Safety'

Boys and dads attending The Sun's "Rifle Safety Night" Monday signed up to fill an entire rifle safety course, offered by the Walnut Creek Sportsmen's Club, but there are still openings in another course.

Signups are being taken for a rifle safety course, to run four successive Wednesday nights beginning next Wednesday night at Acalanes High School, room 106.

Boys and girls 12 years old and older and their dads are encouraged to attend, according to Jim Monk, a sportsmen's club instructor.

They need not own a rifle, he added.

Fathers are encouraged to attend, he said.

Completion of the course qualifies the boy to apply for a hunter's license in the state of California and since 1954 a quarter million boys and girls have completed the course, he said.

The Sociables

By MARIE MONAHAN

THE SANTA MARIA Mother's Club had their fun AND their fashions, too, at last week's fashion show & luncheon at the Claremont Hotel.

No stilted style show was this one, aptly called "FUN with FASHIONS." There was a surprise with every model. Witness one show-stopper, the John Wiegand's DEBBIE who, letting her hair down & looking very Alice In Wonderland, suddenly took on a whole TWIST routine with musical accompaniment by the combo that played. (Her blue bouffant appliqued with white organdy roses).

ANOTHER Lilliput scene-stealer was 4-year old Erin French who started on the raised ramp waving madly in her mother's direction. Skipping on stage for her modeling stint was Athena Mason with her long black locks.

The children's fashions modeled charmingly, too, by Teresa Zacharias, Marilyn Smith, Linda Schwarz, Jane Schnugg, Dorothy Lincoln, Michele McGah, Janet Bergstedt, were a real come-on for early Easter shopping. Patty Finn in a black & pink clown costume accompanied some of the tots & came in handier than the Easter Bunny. Especially in the case of little Janet Bergstedt who started off shyly but proceeded like a real pro w/her tiny hand tucked in Patty's.

Patty, by the way, is a Miramonte High Senior who took her tests early at 8 a.m. that morning in order to participate in the show. Her mother Helen, wearing a luscious lavender petal hat, took tickets at the door, as did Bettina Anderson, Stella Epperson, to name a few.

EVEN LUNCHEON was out of the ordinaire, not to mention the individual bottles of Christian Bros. wine at each place (very small ones!! The size of a cologne bottle). But those plus an array of favors gathered by Chairman Joan Peabody added to the pleasure of the party . . . Joseph Magnin's harlequin paper was used as a folder for the informative program . . . ACCOLADES of the Most to Mollie Poupeney who designed the precious children decking the pillars & walls. She drew a variety of expressions on the young fry faces who looked like paper doll dancers in leotards cut from the well-known pink & hot pink store paper. We couldn't help thinking they all looked related to MAD'S Alfred E. Newman & that made them even more fun.

THE GARDEN ROOM was abounding with bay area Catholic women & their guests, some coming from the peninsula, as did Roni Kentfield, former Orindan, who waited in the foyer for her sister-in-law, Dorothy Reilly.

ADD DECORATIONS in the lobby: Joan Garbarino with Sue Peak, Eva Parker in a purple fringed job . . . Joan Haines, Ann Cain & Kay Tool holding court at a round table . . . In their party, too, Jo Thomas who's just back from Hawaii & timed the trip to to miss the rain, both ways. Ann Spencer & Pat Woodward together . . . Sev Schnugg more relaxed than anyone & she's expecting her even-dozenth! Wanda Jaekel across from Edith Scatena & Ellen Harnett.

ALL EYES on Edith's soignee high turban of green paisley print. It kept one from looking downward where one foot was shod in a trim alligator pump, the other in an open roman sandal to soothe her foot bruised by an accident . . . Ellen Harnett w/the word that our Man Art Hoppe had been one of their recent dinner guests.

Marce Zacharias introducing her mother, Mrs. W. Tice of Oakland . . . At their table, Jean Thompson, Dot Bray, Sally Hofmann, Rita Frost & Jean Filice.

A WOMAN'S WORLD, it was, w/the ladies wall-to-wall for a capacity turnout . . . Many Holy Names, Dominican friends renewing friendships. Thelma Harney & her look-alike daughters . . . Rosita Boyen & her look-alike sister.

The few gentlemen present were Taylor Wheeler, president of the Father's Club, who helped the models at the far end of the ramp & starting the girls off with a flourish were John Wiegand (Margaret chaired the whole party) & Tom Stack, whose wife Bernice is president of the Mother's Club.

YANKEE DOODLE DANDY in red, white & blue knit was tall blonde (Mrs. Donald) Brandes of the Dutch Boy bouffant hairdo (Mrs. Marshall) Moran brandishing a slim parsol w/a greatcoat . . . White chiffon on blonde Mrs. Richard Erving . . . Jackie of navy & white check, a red breton . . . A red chiffon cowl at the neckline of Helen Moore's navy blue coat.

THE CLOTHES RIGHT off their backs, practically, is what happened to some of the models when lunching ladies sought to buy right there & and then . . . Like the pert pink breton straw modeled by Margaret Wiegand . . . ditto Ann (Mrs. Edgar) Sawyer's white & gold sequined sweater.

Mary Rushforth, Women's Club resident, regal & relaxed in the new color combination of olive & turquoise in a raw silk suit . . . Mary Lou Mutch & Joyce Catti in eye-catching outfits rating a hand from everybody.

GiGi Blessing (just back from Del Monte), Billie Madden lunching at a circular table, Jean Smith, Barbara Graber & Barbara Lincoln in a large group. A part white posey atop Mary Haley's black pillbox, SHE with Tommy Nott, Mickey Sharpe, Ursula Mauser, Louise Reves, Vivianne McCormick & Jean Neyland. A glimpse of Peggy O'Brien, Nancy Hunt who'll welcome a family addition, Nancy Hanley, Jane Hennings, Pam Smith. . .

A HOST of elegant doorprizes . . . One of the ice buckets won by Lou McCole, a guest of Margaret Wiegand's along with Bernice Bondi, Joan French & Mrs. John French, Sr.

ing a dazzling array of dress-up clothes, some blues & greens,

After a brief intermission, the treat of a Grande Finale showsome sequined all-over & modeled in triplicate form by a trio of tall blonde ones, Pat White, Peggy Hubbard & Bernice Stack. A wave of applause for Stella Epperson's dramatic black frock shouldering a short capelet.

KUDOS to Margaret, Bernice, Molly & the Mesdames William Billings, John Shields, John Peabody, Frank Gohr, Roland Andersen, John Epperson, Pat Finn & Raymond Dittmeyer who chaired committees for this first-try success of the Santa Maria Mother's Club.

Career Night to Be Instructed By 64 Experts

"Career Night"—Rotary sponsored vocational information event—will take place Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Miramonte High School gymnasium. This annual panel discussion will be moderated by members of Orinda Rotary Club under the direction of Charles Ivy of 16 Greenwood Court and instructed by 64 experts in 16 vocational fields.

Assisting Ivy will be counselors and American problems instructors Harry Putten and Robert Anderson of Miramonte.

ALL SENIOR students at Miramonte High School are required to attend Career Night as a requisite for their American problems course. Their parents especially are asked to attend with them.

The panels will run simultaneously in 16 different rooms. In order to enable students to inquire into three different vocational fields, there will be three panel sessions for each group, as follows: 8:45 to 8:30, 8:30 to 9:15 and 9:15 to 10 p.m.

IMMEDIATELY after the last panel session all participants are invited to attend a refreshment hour in the cafeteria, where they may meet the panelists on a more informal basis.

A group of distinguished professionals will direct the discussion in their chosen fields.

General vocational areas to be discussed are agriculture and forestry, business administration, education, medicine and dentistry, professional arts, professional careers, girls; public media arts, sales and marketing, science and research, engineering, federal government, glamorous career girls, industrial marketing, boys' law enforcement officers, legal profession, and secretarial and office workers.

Orinda-Briones Tunnel Nears Completion Date

The tunnel which connects local water treatment and storage facilities of East Bay Municipal Utility District (Orinda-Briones aqueduct) with the new "Giant M" aqueduct from the Sierra has moved into its completion stage.

Workmen will immediately begin to pour concrete lining in the nine-foot, three-mile bore between Orinda and Lafayette.

It "holed through" last December. The contractor, Stolte-Early, has set February, 1963, for completion of the $5 million project. Other sections of East Bay Water's new, 92-mile, third aqueduct from Pardee Reservoir to the East Bay also are scheduled for completion at that time.

WATER DEMAND in excess of the capacity of the two existing aqueducts means the "Giant M" will go into service immediately upon completion, Joseph D. DeCosta, East Bay Water chief engineer, said. To speed up the tunnel lining and enable its tie-in to the system on schedule, work will proceed from both Lafayette and Orinda portals.

The Lafayette portal is located in the Charles Hill area at the intersection of El Nido Ranch Road and Sunnybrook Road.

UNTIL JUNE 1 the pouring of concrete on the floor of the tunnel will proceed on the present three-shift schedule from the Lafayette portal. Pouring of the arch (roof and walls) will follow from the Orinda portal.

Ends will later receive a steel liner which will be cemented in place and lined with concrete. Removal of spoils material will continue through the Orinda portal.

The tunnel connects in Orinda with the Briones aqueduct, a three-way control for the flow of water between the "Giant M", the Orinda filter plant and Briones Reservoir, which will be completed in 1964.

At the Lafayette portal, it connects with the nine-foot "Lafayette Link" Aqueduct, now under construction from Walnut Creek.

Tax Chief Addresses Jaycees

Nicholas J. Aviani, audit group chief of the Internal Revenue Service in Oakland, was the guest speaker at a recent business meeting of the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Aviani's topic was income tax. He briefly sketched the function of the Internal Revenue Service and the services it performs for the taxpayer. Some of these include answering questions about taxes by phone (about 700 per day) and supplying of several booklets about income taxes.

The speaker also presented a film "The Inevitable Day" which showed how the Internal Revenue Service processes tax forms and what happens when a person is contacted for further information about his return.

The film also described the legal courses of action open to the taxpayer if not satisfied with the Internal Revenue Service's conclusions.

Moraga Trustees OK $187,000 Bond Sale

Moraga School District trustees Wednesday night authorized the district attorney to sell $187,000 in bonds in order to qualify for state aid at their regular meeting in Rheem School.

The board approved a resolution to make application for state apportionment of funds, which, if granted, will enable the district to go to bid for an addition to Camino Pablo School.

District Superintendent William Knight said he hopes this can be accomplished by June 1.

The new addition will add two kindergarten rooms, four classrooms and a multi-purpose room to the new school.

Dr. Floyd Marchus, superintendent of Contra Costa County Schools gave board members his opinion on methods for finding a new trustee to fill the vacancy left by the recent resignation of Donald Falconer.

In other business, trustees agreed to go with Orinda in their outdoor education program for the summer of 1962.

Grant Returns to Moraga Home--- Says Nothing

Oakland broker Lester M. Grant returned to his Moraga home last weekend after being listed as missing for more than three weeks.

His wife, Ruth, told County Sheriff Walter F. Young that Grant called late Friday. The Grants live at 1092 Sanders Drive.

Mrs. Grant said her husband told her he had been in Mexico.

She had sued for divorce on January 25 and was granted $600 a month temporary alimony on February 5, three days after Grant had packed his bags and left in a rented car. The car was found at San Francisco Airport.

On February 15, Mrs. Grant reported her husband missing.

SHE described her husband as "sick and very upset" following his return last weekend.

Grant went to his Moraga home following his return and refused to talk to anyone.

Grant was traced to a Mexico City hotel on February 2, but his whereabouts after that are still a mystery.

Donald A. Pearce, assistant commissioner of the Division of Corporations in San Francisco, is anxious to question Grant about his actions.

AFTER Grant's disappearance state auditors were called in to check his brokerage firm in Oakland and although the books were apparently in order, there is still some investigating going on at the present time.

Pearce said Grant could be served with a subpoena if he failed to appear voluntarily.

Where's the Fire?

Orinda Fire Department responded to the following calls this week:

THURSDAY — 1:30 p.m., Lake Cascade, horse stuck in the mud.

SUNDAY — 1:30 p.m., Moraga Way at Crossroads, public service call (woman dropped key down street grill).

MONDAY — 6:40 p.m., 14 Canyon View, water flow; 6:45 p.m., 50 Stanton Avenue, investigation; 9:20 p.m., 31 Parkway Court, investigation.

TUESDAY — 5:23 p.m., 18 Camino Sobrante, plugged culvert.

John Calderwood Wins Lions Club Speech Contest

Miramonte senior John Calderwood was the winner of the Moraga Lions Club annual Student Speakers contest held last week.

Calderwood will now compete at Danville in the zone contest.

The initial speech contest on the local level is the first plateau in an elimination contest throughout the state and county that will ultimately provide a final winner.

Ed Hicks, chairman of the Moraga contest, said that the winner of the state contest will receive a $1500 scholarship. There are also three $500 scholarships awarded for the three state runnersup, he said.

The three Moraga contestants spoke on the subject "My Responsibility in a Changing World."

Corinne Blizzard and Richard Gallager, also of Miramonte, were the other two contestants.

Litter Is Topic Of Fifth Grade Poster Contest

The Anti-Litter Poster contest is again underway in the Orinda School District.

This year the contest, at the suggestion of Mrs. Rossi, the district's art teacher, and with the approval odf Superintendent Joseph Sheaff is restricted to the fifth grade.

Posters are being created now in the various fifth grades.

Eight posters will be selected by each school to represent them in the final judging on March 3.

All final entries will receive certificates of merit and the 10 best will be awarded ribbons.

"KEEP ORINDA Clean and Beautiful" is the theme for this year's contest, said Mrs. Frederick F. Rust, chairman of the Anti-Litter Poster contest and a member of the Orinda Beautification Committee.

The contest is timed to coincide with Conservation Week throughout California.

The purpose of the contest is to stress to the children as well as adults of the community the importance of maintaining the beauty of our surroundings.

Serving on the judging committee will be representatives from the Orinda Art Center, the Orinda Garden Club, the Orinda Valley Garden Club and the Hilltop Garden Club.

Winning posters will be displayed throughout the shopping district of Orinda for the month of March, Conservation Month.

The O. B. C. under the able co-chairmanship of Mrs. Joseph F. Conley and Ewart Phair is working on a master landscaping plan to coordinate and beautify the two sides of Orinda.

Family of the Week

A CHECKERBOARD comes in handy on rainy nights at the home of Marcia and Henry Zacharias, who may be bridge champs but are usually beaten on the black and red squares by their children, "Terry," aged 9, and Chipper, aged 8. "Hank" is president of Orinda Park Pool, Inc., where his two tads are on the swim team. The native Michigan man, an insurance executive with a SF firm, is a past vice president of Hacienda Homes, Inc., as well as Hacienda Improvement Association, has served on the executive board of the Orinda-Moraga Democrats Club. Marcia shares her husband's civic interests as secretary for the Orinda Planning Commission, is a librarian at Santa Maria School where the children attend classes, and she's a member of the Tanagers Unit for Mt. Diablo Therapy Center. The pert blonde native Californian plays piano, knits, gardens and chauffeurs and cheers for her swim team champs. Her pet project is serving as advisor to the Bobbies, a Miramonte girls' club. This was a big week for "Terry," who was one of the junior-sized models for Santa Maria's "Fun With Fashions" at the Claremont. The family resides at 257 La Espiral, where they've lived for the past seven years.

Orinda Thaws, Then Freezes

Spring buds suffered a setback this week as warmer weather gave way to freezing temperatures and a low of 20 degrees. Total rainfall yesterday was 5.98 inches. Here are the readings:

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

IN LIKE A LION

A BIG BLOW on the B'day Cake candles for friend Ally Rasmussen who celebrated hers mid-week & we're a little late w/this one, but we just got wind that the Dentist Jim Wasleys, after THREE daughters, got themselves a SON on Feb. 3!

It should interest you that the probable subject for discussion at Orinda Association's big annual meet (date to be announced later) will be the future of the Assoc. property, approx. 9 acres to the right as you turn towards Oakland.

At the Association's meeting Mon. nite it was amazing to hear that already a swim club, tennis club & the Art Center ladies are willing to lend a hand should we give it a go as a Community Center!

HOW LUCKY can we get? The swim group offered to BUILD a pool thereon. Ditto courts w/the tennis people. Young or old, this property owned by the Association should be of great concern to you. There aren't many empty spots left. Even if you aren't a member, keep your eye peeled for the meet date! April or May . . .

THE RAY HUDDACHEKS will be missed. They're transplanting w/their two tots to M-I-S . . . S-I-S . . . S-I-P-P-I & that's the only way I can spell it right.

The day of the Cosmonaut caused Wishy Sage to comment that her grandson, Bobby Sage, was born on the first Space Day & here, sharing the limelight w/Glenn, was Wishy celebrating her B'day because, said she, "I've been in Outer Space for a long time!"

LOCAL CELEBRITY CORNER: Poet Harold Witt will join six other bay area poets commissioned to write a Peace-themed poem for the SF Poetry Festival in June . . . Sponsored by the Poetry Center, under SF State's James Schevill, the Festival will honor Dag Hammerskjold, hence the theme.

Smiling Barba Syverud, a student at St. Olaf's in Minn., put words & thoughts together to come out top winner of the Essay division of the American Freedoms contest sponsored by the same society over the birthdays of our Two Great Men.

Edith "Mid" Erickson got the full-page treatment in a Tribune EBMUD ad piece this week. The "Orinda Housewife" was the last president of the old Mother's Club! We mean, what was formerly the Mother's Club! You're too sensitive, dears!

The Dick Bottjer's Jan caught his Eagle at a Court of Honor held last Monday . . . That most famous of families, the Frank Schnuggs will follow in the footsteps of the Gilbreths. They're expecting their TWELFTH!

PHAIR'S "TOP OF THE STAIRS" might just be open today, if not, VERY SOON, w/pretty parisian decor, etc. Coffee will be served upstairs, but you'll tote your tray upward after selecting from the delicatessen delishes. The earlier name announced "The Bird Cage" was too tea-roomy sounding & shelved in favor of this easier-to-locate luncheon-spot name. Which sounds poetic, too! Future plans may include something even more deluxe at "The Top Of The Stairs." Like a Penthouse place for leisurely lunching.

OUT LIKE A LAMB

SISTER ACT. Only it wasn't (an act). The Allen Goldsmith's Carol broken her leg on a recent Miramonte ski trip. Over the four-day wknd., their Ellen broke hers on a similar junket & now the cast includes two sisters in the same.

CHEERIER NOTES of the past holiday: The Tom Wilcoxes snow-bound for Dodge Ridge . . . Marge Douglass & her brood joining Mr. D. for lunch on the UC campus . . .

All dressed up & some place to go, Martha Hopkins & her boy, her girl & their Grandmother, heading for the city across the bay & carte blanche on the luncheon menu.

AT AMERICAN TRUST, two patient boys counting & recounting their red paper rolls of pennies . . . Abe Lincoln would have liked that!

Across the street, Deke Ballard bouncing along w/his bean bean shooter in hand . . . Gus Filice having one heck of a time trying to squeeze In . . .no, OUT? of the family wagon where he was half-way wedged in, no, out? by a Black's shopping cart . . . & someone's squeeze park job.

RUN, RUN, RUN to Rummage '62 at Santa Maria . . . Today & tomorrow, it's Five & Ten Day w/everything to go, go, go for a nickel or a dime . . . & that's the last of the GrandDaddy Sale until '63, girls! Hope you got YOUR bargains!

RECOMMENDED: Reader's Digest (March issue) "Marriage Is Not For Children," a condensation from Good Housekeeping . . . & "Speaking Out" in the Feb. 24 SatEvePost—"Why I Deprive My Children" . . . Food for thought!

If you want a real reflective study (esp. if you're raising girls) order "Province of the Heart" by Poestess Phyllis McGinley at the Library. Of course, you've read Anne Morrow Lindbergh's beautiful book . . . or haven't you?

LITERARY LION OR LAMB! Lucius, you've lost me! When Lucius Beebe goes editorial & leaves society, he's out of his element & those 200-word sentences in his Chron. weekly column leave me gasping for breath midway, not to mention losing the train of thought w/all those voluminous phrases & you see how it is, I've lost you, but Don't go away yet!

NOT IF YOU NEED a window washer, a weed puller, or a trustworthy Baby Sitter . . . The PF-ers of the Orinda Community Church (Juniors & Seniors) will travel to the World's Fair at Seattle by chartered bus, etc, for a long look but need to earn the money. You help them & they'll help you. A call to mothers Nancy Creech, CL 4-0388, Leona Wilson, CL 4-2920 & or Ruth Thor, CL 4-0821 will find you a young person to do a good job!

Barbara Graber who has four tads of her own, was the ready, willing & able one who volunteered to bathe the three Lincoln babies when they were just that new. She & Barbara L. are old flying buddies . . . & that's ONE place the kids can't trail after you!

NOW THAT TILDEN Park's Trout Farm has reopened, we remember the story of an Orinda friend who left her boy there to fish while she went off & shopped. ? When she returned hours later, she had to bail him out. By going home for MORE money. Her son had caught upteen dozen fish & she didn't realize you have to to PAY for them. We learned the hard way, too, in Carmel Valley. Never enjoyed twelve dollars worth of trout so little in my life!

A LOVELY entry in the "KOVR Girl" contest to be held at Broadway Shopping Center April 7 is Mrs. Marie Skidmore of 2480 Larkey Lane, Walnut Creek, a housewife and mother of three children, also singer, actress, den mother and PTA coffee chairman!

'TV Girl' Will Be Chosen April 7

Contra Costa girls will demonstrate their television personalities April 7 during the county finals of the Channel 13 "KO-VR Girl" contest, to be held n the Broadway Shopping Center, in front of Lucky Store.

Area girls should apply by obtaining entry blanks from the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce offce at 1359 Locust Street, Walnut Creek. Deadline to apply is next Monday!

The big event will be held in Broadway in conjunction with "A Day at the Fair," a part of Broadway's Easter Parade, to run April 5-21.

THE KO-VR Girl" county winner picked in Broadway will be eligible to compete in the "KO-VR Girl" pageant to be held later, and televised by Channel 13 in Sacramento. Details will be announced soon.

All women over 18 years old are eligible to compete, whether they are single, married or previous contest winners.

The winner will receive a 13-week television contract, and will appear on National Broadcasting Company television shows.

A $1000 wardrobe and an all-expense paid trip to Hollywood will go to the winner!

SHE WILL appear on Queen for a Day and the new Tennessee Ernie Show. An all-expense paid trip to Lake Tahoe is included.

The "KO-VR Girl" contest is tailored for television. Judging will be done on a television screen where personality and ability to speak will count heavily in the scoring.

The judging of the county winner in Broadway will be by television, and the judges will not see the competitors in person, according to C. Glover Delaney, vice-president and general manager of Channel 13.

Looked for in each girl will be beauty of face and figure, poise, including her walk, carriage and gracefulness, personality including voice quality, ability to converse and manner.

The county winner will compete in the area finals which will be held in Concord, Sacramento, Stockton, Modesto and Marysville.

College Study Prompts Proposal and Criticism

A request that the study of the Contra Costa Junior College District's "personnel problem" be conducted by a private managerial consultant firm and a petition signed by 112 persons attacking the California Teachers Association were both considered by the board of governors, Monday night, at the Diablo Valley College.

The "Taxpayers and Parents Associated for Better Education," a recently-formed group, was represented by attorney Edward Heavey of San Francisco.

Heavey sought to take the study starting next Monday out of the hands of the Personnel Standards Commission of the California Teachers Association.

The trustees held to their earlier decision.

The study will be based upon marathon interviews to be conducted at the Concord Inn, over a period of about four days.

THE INTERVIEWERS will be panel members representing the CTA, the California Association of School Administrators and California School Board Association and the California Junior College Association.

Heavey listed three private firms as being available to undertake a survey — Booz Allen and Hamilton of San Francisco, Gold-Thompson and Company of South Pasadena and Louis Allen Associates of Palo Alto.

Heavey said his group believes the controversy surrounding Superintendent Drummond McCunn and his relations with staff members stems from "A segment of the teaching profession who want to run the junior college to suit themselves."

Heavey quoted from a letter written in 1959 by District Trustee George Gordon, criticizing the earlier Personnel Standards Commission study of the district's personnel problems. Gordon at that time called the study "undemocratic."

HOWEVER, Gordon, who missed several board meetings due to illness, was present Monday night, and he spoke in defense of the Personnel Standards Commission study.

Gordon pointed out that in 1959 the board did not request the study. But this year, the board has formally requested that it be made.

The board members should be able to evaluate the facts developed by the panel of interviewers, and arrive at its own conclusions, Gordon commented.

The petition with 112 signatures was presented by Mrs. Elmo Mangini of Concord, chairman of another new group, the "Parents Committee for Civic Responsibility."

MRS. MANGINI called the California Teachers Association a "political oligarchy," and she said the Personnel Standards Commission desires to intrude on the board members' policy-making duties.

She asked the board members to find an investigating team not associated with college faculties.

Leaflets questioning the national loyalty of some teachers and administrators were distributed to the crowd of nearly 300 persons, before the meeting.

The leaflets referred to "A few dissident teachers . . . assisted by money and talent from left-wing extremists."

BOARD Chairman William Kretzmer termed "baloney" the leaflet statement that supporters of Superintendent McCunn have been gaveled down in recent meetings.

Two junior college teachers, Gerald Sedgewick and Wayne Hayden, expressed fears that their testimony in favor of Superintendent McCunn in the future hearings would hurt their professional careers.

What Is This Commission Over Study?

The authority and composition of the Personnel Standards Commission, which will begin its study of the Contra Costa Junior College District "personnel problem" Monday, was described this week by the "Friends of the Junior College," a recently-organized group.

"The Personnel Standards Commission, established in 1948, has gained nation-wide acclaim among educators, school board members, and courts of law both for the thoroughness of its investigations, and the objectivity and value of the resulting reports," according to Ben Mansell, CTA representative.

"Misunderstanding of the investigative processes used by the commission may arise from the fact that the techniques used are those of a grand jury rather than a court of law," he said.

"The Personnel Standards Commission is an extra-legal body, similar to those in other professions such as the American Medical Association, which protects members of the education profession against unjustified attacks, and assumes responsibility for the conduct of its members.

"As an extra-legal body, we have no authority to subpoena witnesses," said Mansell.

"Since we cannot offer witnesses the legal protection of a court of law, all information is given to us voluntarily, in confidence, and is kept confidential by the commission," he said.

Mansell stressed that all persons involved in an investigation are thoroughly informed previous to the beginning of the actual study, and are invited to testify as fully as they wish.

The "Friends of the Junior College" ascertained that Mansell acts as coordinator for the investigating panels, making arrangements for meeting rooms and lodgings, said William Houff, "Friends" leader.

Machine Operator Sought by County

Contra Costa County has an opening for a duplicating machine operator.

The pay is $341-$415 per month.

Requirements call for high school graduation and one year of experience in the operation of multilith duplicating machines.

Two years of additional experience may be substituted for two years of high school.

'Enemies of Public Education' Topic For Educator Tonight; Public Invited

Dr. Richard Barnes Kennan, secretary of the Commission on Processional Rights and Responsibilities of the National Education Association, will speak tonight at 7 p.m. at Diablo Valley College student activities building. The public is invited.

Dr. Kennan's topic will be "Who Are the Enemies of Public Education?"

William Houff of Walnut Creek, a leader in the recently-formed "Friends of the Junior College," said Dr. Kennan will discuss "Disruptive attacks on teachers and texts by special interest groups."

HOUFF, a research chemist, said bringing Kennan to the county is a first project of the group, formed to examine various aspects of the college district's controversial problems.

Houff said Dr. Kennan speaks under the auspices of the largest and most important organization of educators, the N.E.A.

As head of the professional responsibilities arm, he has exhaustively studied unjustified attacks on education which have broken out across the nation periodically during the past 10 years.

Communism Lecures Win Foundation Medal

The Contra Costa Junior college District's 1961 lecture series, "Facts on Communism Today," has been awarded a George Washington Honor Medal by the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

The award is the second highest recognition given by the Foundation in its schools division, and this marks the second consecutive year the college district has been honored.

Last year the district won a citation for its 1960 American Heritage Day program staged in Richmond auditorium.

The foundation's avowed purpose is to "fight the international Communist conspiracy and preserve our national heritage of freedom."

Its awards jury is made up of 30 individuals, a third of whom are chief and associate justices of state supreme courts.

The college district's series consisted of a total of 18 lectures presented at Diablo Valley College, Concord, and Contra Costa College in San Pablo by eight speakers considered to be authorities on the subject of Communism.

The lectures, for which two faculty members, Wayne A. Hayden and Mario J. Pezzola, served as coordinators, were attended by more than 20,000 persons.

The college district's entry for a foundation award, consisting of explanatory text and photographs in bound volume form, was prepared by George Archinal, administrative assistant in charge of publications.

Formal presentation of the medal will be made at a later date.

First Charter Corp. Reports

An all-time high in earnings was reported by First Charter Financial Corporation for the year 1961, according to S. Mark Taper, chairman of the board.

Consolidated net earnings for the year before appropriations to general reserves reached a record $16,859,798, equal to $2.46 per share.

This represents a 30 per cent increase over the $12,990,399 or $1.89 a share reported in 1960, based on 6,860,175 shares outstanding on December 31, 1961.

Taper noted that the 1961 earnings increase was the highest ever reported in the company's history.

Mental Health Group's Annual Meeting Coming

The annual meeting of the Contra Costa County Mental Health Association will be held March 29 at 8 p.m. in the west room of Diablo Valley College. Chairman will be Dr. Maxine Sehring of Walnut Creek.

The annual report will be presented by President Aron S. Gilmartin of Walnut Creek. Brief amendments to the by-laws will be voted on. Election of officers and board of directors will be held.

Assisting Dr. Sehring are Mesdames Robert Adams of Lafayette, Eleanor Wilson of Martinez, J. E. Neighbors of Lafayette, and Mrs. William Reeves.

The nomination committee includes Harlan Lewis of Lafayette, chairman; Dr. Y. Togasaki of Lafayette; Mrs. Stephen B. Fish, Walnut Creek; Mrs. W. O. Davis, Concord; Mrs. Verdun Trioni, Pittsburg; Mrs. W. Garoutte of Kensington and Miss Jessie Blackburn of Antioch.

Refreshments will be served during a social half-hour prior to the meeting at 7:30 to 8 p.m.

Miramonte Mirror

Skiing, Parties, Games Fill Four-Day Holiday

By KITTY MIKA and ANN LINCOLN

Another long weekend has gone by which makes the next holiday Easter vacation, and it is only six weekends away. The fact that definitely calls for celebration, though, is that after Easter vacation there are only seven short weeks until the class of '62 receives their long-awaited diplomas.

The last basketball game between Miramonte and Acalanes was played Wednesday night in the MHS gym. It was a tense, rough game, and the Matadors were ahead by at least a few points from beginning to end, but lady luck just wasn't on the Mats' side.

In the second to last second the Dons made a long lucky shot and won the game, 51 to 49. More than one tear was shed that night—it seems that the class of '62 will never see their team beat Acalanes.

The pompon girls and cheerleaders got together after the game and had a slumber party at Pat Kelly's. Their fun-filled night included a seance which never quite got as serious as a seance should get, thanks to Sue Hancock.

Bright and very early Thursday morning the girls started out to shanghai the boys. They had more than a little trouble at the DeWitts' because they couldn't find the light switch. Finally, though, Judy Hopkins and Mike Rolley, Linda Sears and Grigg DeWitt, De De Davie and Mike McQuaid, Bonnie Kent and Sam De Franco, Sharon Nielsen and Bob Pothier, Pam Pearson and John Rielly, Barbie Brush and Clint DeWitt and Pat Kelly and Brad Peter ended up at the Pancake Queen, where they enjoyed a hearty breakfast. From there some of the couples went over to San Francisco, where they went to the Palace of Fine Arts and the Japanese Tea Gardens.

Nancy Bregar's '58 Chevy brings back many a memory to many seniors, but it is no more. Now Nancy can be seen bombing around in a 1962 beige T-Bird with power everything—it sure is a tough life?!

With four days of vacation, many MHS students headed toward the mountains to enjoy their favorite winter sport.

Linnet Trefts and Steve Miller spent part of the weekend at Alta with the Miller family and skied at Sugar Bowl. It seems Steve had a little trouble with the fire extinguisher—he decided to squirt it at his younger brother and the darn thing wouldn't stop squirting.

Marc Jacobs was also skiing at Sugar Bowl with her family.

Squaw Valley was literally invaded with Miramonte teens over the weekend. Mary Baker and Betsy Blossom stayed at the Bakers' cabin over the four days and between hiking into the cabin in snow up to their waists and lying in the slush trying to figure out how to take the chains off, they managed to get some good skiing in.

Tara Doty came up to Tahoe to visit Karen Rigor and they, too, skied at the Valley. Pete Read came out from Utah for the weekend, which made our invalid Carol a happy girl—they were also at Squaw Valley.

Some of the many others enjoying the fabulous snow conditions and braving the blizzards were Scott Huntley, Paul Locklin, Doug Knudsen, Nancy Snover, Linda Murphy, Dean Hilger, Bob Williams, Kent Miller, Ron Parks, Dick Sutliffe, Rick Merriam, Hap Parks, Bob Lyman, Fred Neighbor and Perry Mann.

Dave Parish, Jane White and Jo-an Scholberg came up to Squaw for the day on Friday, but it seems they picked the wrong day and ended up being snowed in.

Dodge Ridge was also packed with Miramonte students. The St. Stephens youth group took 86 teens up for a laugh-filled weekend. Among the many teens that enjoyed the trip were Tom Gunn, the exchange-exchange student, Hank, Ann Warner, Nancy Henry, Laurie Christie, Sharon Clavan and Rich Vivrette.

On Saturday night Pam Pearson and John Rielly and Mike Chance and his date went into San Francisco, where they saw "West Side Story." Afterwards they drove through China Town, where Chinese New Year's was in progress, and handed out cookies to the crowds on the streets.

Orinda Coed Is Contestant for ROTC Title

Linda Bargones of Orinda is one of 21 coeds selected to compete for the title of Pershing Rifles Little Captain at the University of Oregon, Eugene.

The 21 contestants will be narrowed to five with the four runner-ups named as Little Lieutenants.

The five will be named at the Little Captain's Ball April 6.

The university's Pershing Rifles is an Army ROTC organization with more than 150 cadet members. It is affiliated with the National Society of Pershing Rifles, founded in 1894 by General John J. Pershing.

Miss Bargones is a freshman majoring in liberal arts. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. Bargones of 208 Camino Sobrante.

Pediatrician Will Address Orinda Mothers

"The Thorny Child" will be the subject of a talk to be given by Dr. James Dennis, medical director of the East Bay Children's Hospital, when he addresses Orinda Nursery School Association mothers Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Orinda Community Church.

Doctor Dennis is a lecturer in pediatrics at the University of California School of Medicine and was a pediatrician in private practice before he took over his present duties with Children's Hospital.

Barbara McGuire will be in charge of hostesses for the evening.

Hats Off To...

Heart Sunday's Kitty Schwarck, J. MacDonald

LACY VALENTINES, the biggest you've got, please, for Mrs. J. H. (Kitty) Schwarck and Mrs. L. S. (Joan) MacDonald, who share co-chairman crowns for this weekend's Heart Sunday and oversee some 25 enlisted captains and 250 volunteer workers who'll call for your gifts to assist in research, community service and education for the Heart Association.

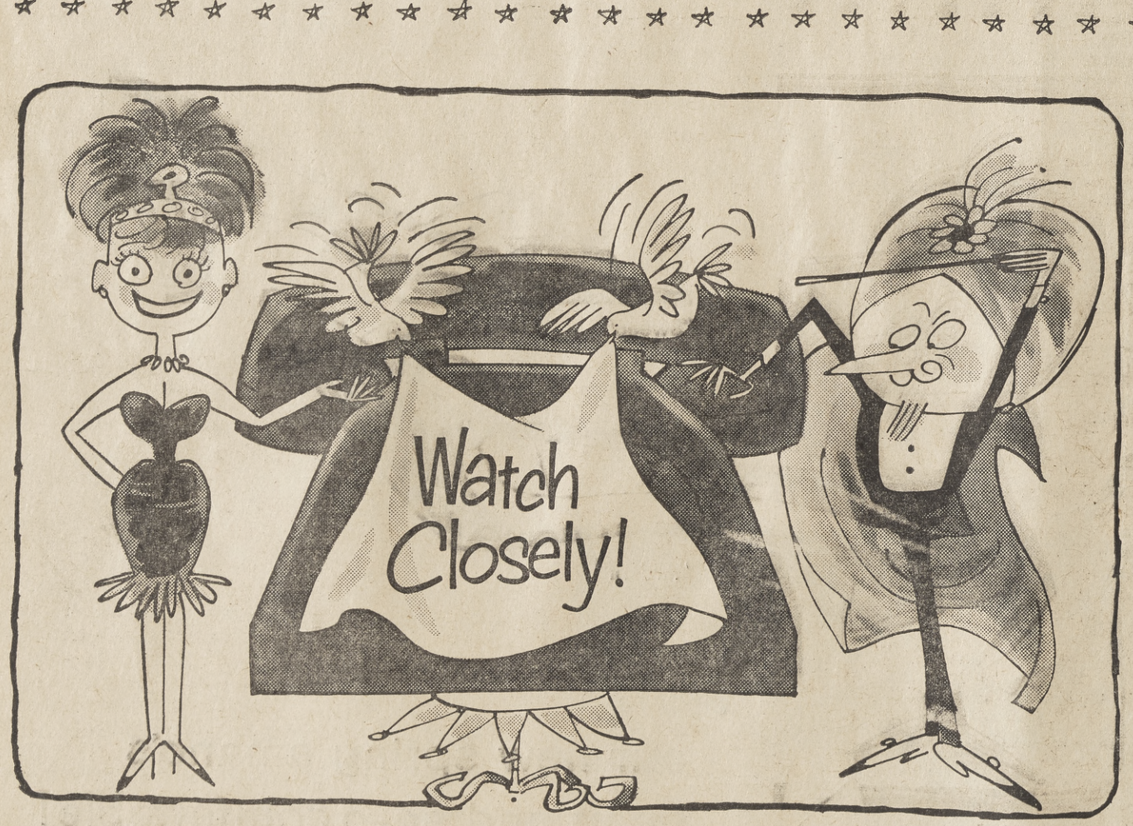
A HEART TO HEART with Kitty reveals she's been Heart Sunday chairman for six years, that this is her own sentimental special project. A real native around there parts having made her home on Via Hermosa for 21 years, she works as the Certificated Personnel Secretary of the Orinda Union School District, was a member of the Orinda School Board for seven years, two of which she served as president of the board. The stately smiling widow is the mother of two very tall sons, Bill, 17½, a Miramonte student and Jeff, 19½, who is with the U. S. Coast Guard and was recently wed to an Orinda girl.

OVER ON DONNA MARIA WAY, Joan MacDonald works at home in her spare time towards the success of the Heart Fund Drive, too, in which she has a personal interest. She shares the Heart Sunday's reigns this year after completing her captaincy for three years; she's corresponding secretary of Del Rel Parents' Club, a Choir mother and Sunday School teacher at Orinda Community Church where she attends with her husband Lloyd and children Susan, 10, Brian, 8, and David, 5.

SPECIAL HEART recognition here, too, to Mrs. Lance (Dorothy) Barden and Mrs. Robert (Clarice) Johnson who spearheaded the Special Gifts section—and to Superintendent Joe Sheaff who chairmaned the Small Businesses Campaign under Floyd Marchus, County Heart Chairman.

Presto the Great

Shows the new look in telephone numbers



All-numeral phone numbers are coming to Contra Costa County

The listings in the August, 1962, Contra Costa County telephone directory will have all-numeral phone numbers. Numerals are being substituted for letters in everyone's number. The numerals correspond to the same dial openings as the letters they replace, so dialing itself will be unchanged.

The conversion to the new type of numbers is taking place gradually:

- Anyone getting telephone service in Contra Costa County for the first time, moving to a new address, or getting a new phone number, is now being given an all-numeral number.
- All other Contra Costa phones will change to the new type of numbers during the next few months.

By mid-July, everyone will have received new dial number cards for his phone and Information Operators will have the new listings. During this conversion, Information Operators may give out some Contra Costa telephone numbers with letters and others with numerals. Since there is no change in dialing, however, calls will go through dialed either way.

These new phone numbers are part of a new nation-wide numbering system called All-Number Calling. It's needed to keep ahead of America's growth. Twenty years ago there were less than 23 million phones in the U.S. Right now there are more than 74 million, and by 1975 there may be more than 160 million phones. This growth is rapidly exhausting letter combinations for usable prefix names. By changing to an All-Number system, enough numbers will be available to keep up with telephone growth in Contra Costa County and the rest of the Nation.

NOTE: The Area Code shown on the number-card is for people calling you from outside your area.

A Chance To Use Spanish!

High school students studying Spanish will have an opportunity to tour Mexico during the Easter school holiday on a guided tour led by Charles Donna, foreign language chairman at Acalanes High School and Spanish instructor.

The tour runs from April 14 to April 21, and features a four-day stop in Mexico City, its culture centers and activities, and a stay at Alcapulco, international resort area.

The tour is designed to give students an opportunity to visit the many places about which they have studied, provide an opportunity to speak Spanish, and improve his understanding of the social, cultural and day-to-day lives of the Spanish speaking peoples.

More than 15 Acalanes District area students have already signed up for the tour, according to Donna, who reports that applications will be received until March 10.

Inquiries may be directed to Donna at Acalanes High School. The tour is not sponsored by either Acalanes High or the Acalanes District.

High school students from any school or district are invited to participate. Fee for the seven-day tour, including all expenses, travel and lodging, is $345.

HIGH SCHOOL Spanish foreign language students Lynn Stitler, Marcia Jensen, teacher Charles Donna, and student Jack Funk, left to right, draw their tickets from a sombrero for a seven-day tour of Mexico during the Easter vacation, April 14 to 21. Donna, Spanish teacher and foreign language department chairman at Acalanes High School, will act as tour guide for 30 Contra Costa area high school students expected to make the trip. Baldwin Is Candidate

Congressman John F. Baldwin of Martinez this week announced that he will be a candidate for re-election.

Because of reapportionment, his congressional district will now consist solely of Contra Costa County.

Baldwin was elected to the House of Representatives in 1954, and was re-elected in 1956, 1958 and 1960.

IN THE 1960 election, he won by a margin of more than 38,000 votes.

He is now completing his fourth term in office.

Baldwin has never missed voting on a recorded roll call since being elected to the House of Representatives. He is the only member west of the Mississippi River with a 100 per cent voting record for this eight-year period.

Baldwin has built up seniority on the House Public Works Committee, on which he has served for eight years and is now the ranking Californian on that committee.

He also serves on the Roads Subcommittee, the Flood Control Subcommittee and the Watershed Development Subcommittee.

IN 1959 he was appointed to the Special Investigating Subcommittee on the Federal-aid Highway Program.

Baldwin was cited in 1960 for achievement by the Council of the California Recognition Plan.

In 1960 Baldwin succeeded in overcoming the opposition of Alameda County and obtained a congressional appropriation of $11,714,000 for the construction of a new Veterans Administration hospital at Martinez, to replace the old Oakland VA hospital.

This 500-bed hospital is now under construction and will be completed next year.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY last year invited Baldwin to the White House to witness the signing of the Water Pollution Control Act and presented Baldwin with a pen used by the President in signing the bill. Baldwin was author of two amendments to the bill.

In 1958 Baldwin obtained agreement of the Army to release Camp Stoneman, so that the property of this inactivated camp could be restored to the Contra Costa County tax rolls and put to constructive use.

In 1960 Baldwin obtained congressional authorization for the $24,000,000 Walnut Creek Flood Control Project, designed to provide a permanent solution to the serious winter flood problem in Central Contra Costa County.

In 1961 he obtained a $90,000 appropriation so that the Army Corps of Engineers could immediately begin drafting the engineering plan and designs for the construction of this project.

HE IS the author of a resolution approved by the House Public Works Committee authorizing the Army Corps of Engineers to make a survey to determine the feasibility of deepening the channel from San Francisco Bay to Antioch to a depth of 40 or 45 feet.

This survey is now nearing completion. This deepened channel will be vital to the future industrial growth of Contra Costa County.

An active conservationist and life member of the Sierra Club, Baldwin is one of the co-authors of the Wilderness Preservation Bill. He has also introduced in the House of Representatives a bill to establish the John Muir Manor at Martinez as a national monument.

Baldwin was recently awarded a life membership by the 32nd district, California Council of Parents and Teachers, in recognition of his service to youth and his work for improved education legislation.

He has supported Civil Rights legislation, increased compensation for disabled veterans, and continuation of federal aid to school districts in areas where federal installations are located.

HE HAS supported the Social Security program and voted to lower the age at which women and disabled people could qualify for Social Security benefits.

He has worked for improved annuities for retired federal civil service employees and for retired military personnel. He has fought for adequate funds for national defense and for improved working conditions and salary schedules for federal civilian employees.

Baldwin and his wife, Mary, have three daughters, ages 15, 9 and 7.

Students Excel

The National Merit Scholarship Program has 14 Acalanes Union High School District students among its list of finalists.

The Acalanes District students were named on the basis of their outstanding performance in a national scholastic aptitude test and the National Merit Scholarship qualifying tests.

Local students whose academic achievement places them in the top one per cent of the nation's high school enrollment include the following:

Acalanes High—William Miller, Cindy Hillyer, Andrew Swenson.

Las Lomas High—Dick Carroll, Tom Blattner, Tom Kelleway, Weller Phillips.

Miramonte High—Joes Ayres, Doug Bodkin, Lance Chilton, Diane Davidson, Carol Troy, Nancy McKee, Michael Eaton.

Each of the students selected for the award is now applying to various colleges of their choice for admission and scholarship consideration.

Their high scores on the merit tests are a decisive fact with admissions and the award of scholarships. Many of the scholarships are supplied by national industries participating in the national merit program.

District Superintendent Neil M. Parsons said, "The academic achievement indicated by their finalist award is an excellent reflection on the work of each of these students and a commendation, too, for the many teachers who have helped these students reach their potential from kindergarten through high school."

Dr. Fort Tells Candidacy for U. S. Congress

Dr. Joel Fort, El Cerrito physician and public health specialist, has announced his candidacy for U.S. Congress in the 14th Congressional District, Contra Costa County.

Dr. Fort is director of the center for treatment and education on alcoholism which is financed by the State of California and serves the Contra Costa and Alameda County area.

He also is chairman of the Subcommittee on Alcoholism and Dangerous Drugs of the Alameda-Contra Costa County Medical Association and is a consultant to several local and state agencies on narcotic addiction and criminology.

The Fort - for - Congress Committee consisting of democratic club leaders from throughout Contra Costa County in their announcement of support for Dr. Fort, stressed his extensive background of community service in civil rights, foreign affairs, cooperative, health and democratic party activities.

He has been a leader in the Northern California Committee for Medical Care for the Aged Under Social Security, speaking out widely against the AMA opposition to this program which Fort said is badly needed by the 17,000,000 Americans over 65.

Dr. Fort has traveled widely in Australia, Asia, Europe, South America and Africa to study the social and political problems of the countries there and to learn about the U.S. foreign aid, information and peace corps programs.

In late 1961 he was one of six American doctors invited as delegates to the first Pan-African Medical Congress in Nigeria.

Dr. Fort and wife, Maria, who is active in the League of Women Voters and the International Hospitality Center, have two children.

Mutnick Hat Tossed Into Demo Fight

Harold E. ("Hal") Mutnick, Lafayette attorney and member of the Democratic county central committee, announced at a press conference held at the Concord Inn, his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congressman from the 14th Congressional District (Contra Costa County).

Mutnick was born in New York City and is 44 years of age. He is a graduate of Columbia University School of Law, class of 1941. He has been a practicing attorney for 20 years and is a member of the State Bar of California, the New York Bar and the Federal Bar Association.

From 1942 to 1946 he served in the United States Army Air Force.

HE HAS PRACTICED law in Contra Costa County since 1954 and maintains law offices in the town of Lafayette. Prior to resuming his private practice of the law he served as an attorney with the Veterans Administration.

As chairman of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation, representing improvement, service and civic organizations in the southern and central region of Contra Costa County, Mutnick made many appearances before the state highway commission and successfully spearheaded the second Alameda-Contra Costa tunnel which is now under construction. Mutnick was also instrumental in obtaining state allocations of funds for the Danville freeway and the Willow Pass extension freeway.

He pioneered the first county service district in California for library facilities in an unincorporated community, as counsel for the Lafayette Library Association.

IN 1952 MUTNICK was the Democratic nominee for assemblyman, 10th A.D., Contra Costa County, and rolled up the highest total primary vote for both parties in a field of eight candidates.

In 1960 Mutnick was Contra Costa chairman for Californians for Stevenson.

He was chairman of the Lafayette Fluoridation Committee in 1960 (the town carried this important vote). During 1960-62 he has served as vice-president and counsel of the Contra Costa County Mental Health Association. He is also a member of the following community organizations: Contra Costa County Bar Association; Central Contra Costa Bar Association; California State Bar Association; Lions Club; Elks Club; American Legion; Masonic Lodge; Contra Costa County Historical Society; Contra Costa Council for Exceptional Children; Contra Costa Concert Guild; Acalanes Community Concerts; Lafayette Library Association.

Demos' Pre-Primary Endorsement Will Be Made Tomorrow at Inn

A Democratic Party candidate to run against U.S. Congressman John Baldwin will be endorsed tomorrow during a day-long convention in the Concord Inn.

This will be the pre-primary endorsement convention of the Contra Costa County Federation of Democratic Clubs.

SOME 1700 club members will choose between Joel Fort, Harold Mutnick and Charles Weidner, all of whom have declared their candidacies.

(See "Under the Sun," on this edition's editorial page.)

State Attorney General Stanley Mosk will speak. He is also a Democratic Party national committeeman.

Another speaker will be Eugene Foley, deputy assistant secretary for domestic affairs of the United States.

REGISTRATION will run from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and lunch will be served to the delegates, according to Pat Silva, Arrangements Committee chairman.

Nomination and acceptance speeches will run from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., and voting will be held at 2:30.

Time limits will be 10 minutes for nomination speeches, two minutes for each of two seconding speeches for each candidate and 10 minutes for acceptance speeches.

Marianne Weigel is the 1962 convention general chairman.

Congressman Baldwin announced his candidacy this week, and The Sun is carrying a separate story in this edition.

Also in this edition are statements by the Democratic Party candidates.

Get Sheriff's Deputies Fast; 24-Hour Phone

Sheriff Walter F. Young announced that toll free foreign exchange telephone trunk lines are now in effect, affording emergency 24-hour telephone service to the sheriff's department for most areas of the county.

These telephone numbers will appear in the next issue of the telephone directory, but meanwhile all citizens are urged to note these numbers for future need.

Persons residing in the central county area may call YEllowstone 5-2474; Orinda area, CLifford 4-2474.

Calls through these numbers are for the exclusive use of the sheriff's department and are not connected to any other county department or agency, said Young.

Calls through these numbers cannot be transferred or relayed to any other department or agency.

This system eventually will be extended to every prefix in Contra Costa County.

Joseph Magnin Sales Increase

Joseph Magnin Company sales for the six months ending December 31 were $13,183,298, an increase of $775,799, or 6.3 per cent greater than sales for the comparable period of 1960.

Part of the sales increase resulted from the two new stores added in September, 1960, and March, 1961.

Sun Subscription Drive Will Aid Retarded Kids

The Lynn Schools for Retarded Children, serving children of the entire area, will receive funds as a result of The Sun's 1962 subscription campaign.

Last year, The Sun's drive raised about $1000 for the retarded children, who attend the Lynn Schools in Walnut Creek and Danville.

A substantial portion of the money from the new subscriptions purchased by area residents will be turned over to the Mary Lynn Auxiliary to the Council for the Retarded, according to Publisher Herman Silverman.

Although parents of the children pay a small fee per month, there is a vital need for many items which have been beyond the current budgets, said Mrs. Helen Young, school director in Walnut Creek.

There are plans for establishing a woodworking center and hobby shop in the Walnut Creek center, also supplying the shop with a power saw.

Also needed are playground equipment, supplies like finger paints, modeling clay, toys of all kinds, children's records, puzzles, playschool type jigsaws, tricycles, wheel toys, wagons and other such items.

Arts, Crafts Committee Has Chairman

Mrs. T. A. Bettersworth of 190 Random Way, Walnut Creek, has been elected chairman of the Co-op Arts and Crafts Committee, it was announced.

Her officers include Mrs. P. J. Hennigan, vice-chairman; Mrs. Eugene Bush, Jr., secretary; Mrs. P. Chang, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are as follows: Mesdames L. O. Wald, sales; David Coleman, exhibits; Robert Hick, membership; A. F. Lehberger, refreshments; L. A. Wadleigh, publicity.

Rehabilitation Demonstration For PTA Group

The 32nd District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the Contra Costa Rehabilitation Council will co-sponsor a discussion-demonstration on new concepts in rehabilitation, Monday.

The meeting will be in the nurse's classroom, L ward building, County Hospital, 2500 Alhambra Avenue, Martinez.

Coffee will be served at 10 a.m. and the program will begin at 10:30.

Mrs. Robert T. Adams, president of Contra Costa Rehabilitation Council, and Mrs. V. P. Andersen, president of 32nd District, have outlined the program.

Members of the staff of the Rehabilitation Council will discuss the work of the council. A planning unit will help the handicapped find the services they need. An actual case conference will show how the skills of a physician, a social worker, a vocational counselor, and other members of an evaluation team are brought together in discovering the rehabilitation potential of a severely disabled young man.

The Contra Costa Rehabilitation Council was incorporated in 1959 and has representatives from 39 health and welfare agencies, including the co-sponsor of the conference, 32nd District. Offices are located in the County Hospital, Martinez, and at the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, 100 Golf Club Road, Pleasant Hill.

Nursery Equipment Takes Wings

Mrs. Joseph Varucene of 179 Beverly Drive, Pleasant Hill, sold her nursery equipment, including crib, hi-chair, playpen, walker and bathenitte with her want ad in The Sun.

Mrs. Arthus Burch of Pleasant Hill sold a large office desk, and Mrs. W. Koehler of Orinda sold a refrigerator and a pair of brass lamps, each with an ad in The Sun.

These "success stories" are credited to The Sun's "5-in-1" treatment where each want ad appears in the 50,000-circulation Sun Shopping News on Wednesday, and automatically in the four Sun subscription newspapers on Friday.

The newspapers are The Walnut Creek Sun, Orinda Sun, Lafayette Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun.

A 14-word ad costs only $1.60 for the "5-in-1" treatment.

Call a Sun ad writer today at YE 4-5000, 284-4444 or CL 4-4444.

Camellia Show Coming to WC Center

The annual Camellia Show will be held March 10 and 11 at the Walnut Creek Recreation Building.

Sponsor is the Northern California Camellia Society, which is accepting entries until March 10 at 10 a.m.

The public may attend March 10 from 2 to 10 p.m., and March 11 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The decorations will be arranged by Robert Graves, landscape architect.

Theme will be "Camellias . . . north, south, east and west."

Burglars Busy in Orinda; Loot Includes Ten Suits

Three burglaries and a search for suspects in a two-man holdup which netted $500 have kept officers at the sheriff's substation in Lafayette on the jump this past week.

All three of the burglaries occurred in Orinda and were committed within 30 hours of each other.

Ogden's, Inc., well-known haberdasher at 21 Orinda Way, was victimized to the extent of three shirts, three jackets, six sweaters, three billfolds and half a dozen sets of cuff links, amounting to a value of approximately $250. Entry was gained by prying open the rear door. The break-in happened between 6 p.m. Friday and 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

SIMILAR ENTRY was made at Chuck's Chuckburger, Inc., at 1 Moraga Way between 11 p.m. Thursday and 7 a.m. Friday. Whoever pried open the rear door rifled the cash register of $110, took another $100 hidden in a carton and absconded with the March of Dimes container.

John L. Sergeant of 371 Camino Sobrante in Orinda also was victimized by burglars between 1 and 5 p.m. on Friday while he and his family were gone from their home. The entry was made through the rear bedroom and it was looted along with the master bedroom and the family room.

The thief made off with a portable television set valued at $250 and also took 10 men's suits valued at $100 each to make the total loss $1250.

MEANWHILE, deputies have been grilling suspects in the King Food Center holdup which occurred Wednesday of last week. Pleasant Hill and Martinez officers got into the act in the search for two 18-year-old bandits who held up a clerk at the market of 3572 Mt. Diablo Boulevard and forced the clerk to put all of the visible currency into a paper bag.

Larger loss was saved by the clerk's leaving big currency hidden in the bottom of the drawer. All suspects have been released in the case.

Synagogue, Church Music Program Set

A unique opportunity to hear both synagogue and church worship music on the same program will occur Monday at 8 p.m. in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek.

Two cantors of the Jewish faith and a Christian organist-choir master will combine with their respective choirs to sing and show parallels between the hymns and responses used in the two different worship services.

Through the efforts of William T. Stone of Walnut Creek, organist and choir director at both St. Paul's and Temple Sinai in Oakland, the program will feature the voices and commentary of cantors Sheldon Merel from Temple Sinai and Henri Goldberg from the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center.

THE TEMPLE Sinai Quartet Choir, and choirs from both synagogue and church will assist.

Cantor Goldberg will open the program with cantillations from the Bible. Cantor Merel and the temple choir will present the Adonoy Molosch (Psalm 97), Bor'ches Adonoy (call to worship), Sh'ma Yisroel (declaration of faith), V'ohavto (summary of the law) and the Kaddish prayer.

ST. PAUL'S choir, under Mr. Stone's direction, will then offer three pieces from the Christian hymnal used in service. They are the Ferial Preces; Venite, exaltemus Domino; and the Lord's Prayer.

Cantor Goldberg and the choir will return with the Oleyn, which will be followed by the choir of St. Paul's singing the Sanctus (Plainsong, 14th century).

The concluding section of the program will consist of Jewish worship songs; Hashdivenu, Yism'chu, Ovinu Malkenu, Yigdal, and finally the Y'vorech'cho or priestly benediction.

This unusual program is being sponsored by the Contra Costa chapter of the American Guild of Organists as part of their endeavor to advance the cause of worthy religious music. Dean of the local chapter, Mrs. John Hardy of Danville, says that no charge will be made but a free will offering will be taken. Since there is expected to be considerable interest in the event, she urges that guests come early to insure a good listening seat.

Math Prof Honored at College Dinner

Dr. George Polya, professor emeritus of mathematics at Stanford University, spoke at a dinner meeting in his honor in the cafeteria of Diablo Valley College Wednesday.

A native of Budapest, Hungary, Dr. Poly areceived his doctor's degree in mathematics from the University of Budapest in 1912. He taught and lectured on the subject in leading universities in Europe and the United States and became associated with Stanford in 1942.

Oh, The Crazy Prices!

Ever hear of a new $170 portable television set being sold for $19?

Or a $200 family wardrobe being sold for $25?

Or a 40 per cent markdown on a custom sofa?

THESE will give you an idea of the "crazy prices" which will be set in Broadway Shopping Center stores during "St. Patrick's Luck of the Irish Days," March 15-17.

There will be hundreds of crazily-priced items, and each such item will go to the reader of the Sun Shopping News or The Sun who has the "lucky number."

When your Sun Shopping News arrives on March 14, and your regular Sun subscriptiton newspaper arrives on March 16, check the "Broadway Section" to see what your "lucky number" is. Each Broadway section will be numbered individually. No two numbers will be the same.

Then take your Sun Broadway section during "Luck of the Irish Days" to Broadway, and check the stores to see if it is a winning number!

THERE will be hundreds of winning numbers, where what looks look a down payment will make the valuable item yours forever!

Each merchant is planning to have several crazily-priced tems.

For example, Sears in Broadway, will offer a popular model portable television set usually priced at $169.95 for just $19 to the resident with the lucky number on The Sun Broadway section. He will be able to plunk down $19 and the new set is his!

Sears will also offer to a "lucky number" holder a boys or girls 26-inch bicycle valued at $45.98 for just $4.44.

OTHER lucky prizes are being planned by Sears.

Penney's is planning to offer a $200 family wardrobe for just $25.88, also patio furniture, originally priced at $50 for just $6.88.

Another example is W and J. Sloane, Inc., home furnishers, which plans to offer to the lucky number holder "40 per cent off" on any sofa custom-made in customer's choce of size and material.

The Sun's Broadway section will carry on the cover page the names of the participating stores and the "crazy prices" they will each offer to the lucky number holder.

All you need do is to be sure you get the March 15 Sun Shopping News or the March 17 regular Sun newspaper and take it with the individual number stamped on it to the Broadway the hundreds of "lucky number" stores to see if you are among holders.

Each store will have its lucky numbers posted. Show the store folk your lucky number and that's all there is to qualifying!

"This will also give area residents a chance to look at all the new quality items at low prices now offered in Broadway," said B. K. Horne, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Three are residents have been elected directors of the Fidelity Guaranty Savings and Loan Association, it was announced.

They are Clarence Overaa of Orinda, C. E. Rutledge and Lester Hink, both of Lafayette.

'Hansel & Gretel' Will Be Presented

"Hansel and Gretel" the perennial favorite, will be presented at Acalanes High School auditorium tomorrow. There will be a morning performance at 10:30 a.m. and an afternoon performance at 2 p.m.

Sponsored by the East Bay Children's Theatre, Inc., the play will be directed by Florence Schwimley with a cast of Berkeley High School students.

Sets and costumes were created by members at the Children's Theatre workshop under the direction of Carson Pontius.

A few tickets for the children's play are still available and may be purchased at the box office for 65 cents.

Rains, Snow Tough on Cars Says Expert

Motor inspection heads the number of mechanical checks suggested to California motorists whose cars are exposed to current weather extremes, said J. H. Archbold, Jr., National Automobile Club general service manager.

He said that Sierra snow and costal rains have caused a tremendous rise in auto maintenance requirements.

"For cars immersed or partially covered with sand or mud a full shop inspection will be necessary," he said, "and depending on the degree of exposure, the rear-end and driving assemblies should be inspected and cleaned.

Jealousy Is Subject

The "Circle Players," a talented group of amateurs, will offer a 35-minute play concerning jealousy among children in a family at the next meeting of the Institute of Social and Personal Relations, Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Contra Costa Real Estate Board building, 1343 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

Veteran's Tax Exemption Filing BeginsMonday

County Assessor E. F. Wanaka announced that the period in which war veterans may file claim for tax exemption will begin Monday, March 5.

Veterans who received the tax exemption last year need not come into the office to file, as they have already received affidavits in the mail, he said.

These forms should be returned as quickly as possible in order to assure proper credit of the exemption. They must be filled out completely, and all items must be answered in full before the exemption can be allowed.

IN CASES where the veteran is filing for the first time or did not receive exemption last year, it is necessary that he appear in the assessor's office, having with him his service discharge papers and also the description of the property on which the exemption is claimed.

The property also must have been duly recorded in the veteran's name no later than Monday in order to qualify for exemption.

The veteran is allowed an exemption if his assets are valued at less than $5000.

If the property is community property held by the husband and wife, the amount is $10,000.

THIS includes stocks, bonds, real and personal property. Assessed values rather than market value of the real property are used in determining the veteran's net worth.

The exemption applies to both men and women; the widow, pensioned widow; or pensioned father or mother of the veteran.

Certain paraplegic veterans are entitled to special consideration and should contact the assessor regarding an exemption on the property.

In addition to the veteran's exemption, affidavits for church exemption must be filed by the various churches throughout the county during the same period for property used solely and exclusively for religious purposes.

ORGANIZATIONS requesting welfare exemption file their claim between the first Monday of March and April 1. Again, forms have been mailed to those filing last year.

Veterans may file or receive assistance in completing their affidavits at the County Court House, Martinez, or at the County Building, 100 37th Street, Richmond.

Gordon Lindsay Heads Taxpayer Committee

Gordon Lindsay, 2973 Knoll Drive, Concord, has been appointed chairman of the County Taxpayers Association Health and Welfare Committee. He replaces Edward Mertens, supervising chemist of California Research Corporation, who was forced to resign because of extended assignments in Europe and South America for his company.

Lindsay, who is now retired, was educated at the University of California and engaged in government employment during the war as a part of the emergency wheat administration.

He has worked in Contra Costa County for the Shell Oil Company for 38 years in the purchasing and the fuel storage department.

He was manager of these departments for Shell Chemical Company in San Francisco, Portland, Texas, and in the last 10 years in Pittsburg.

After-Game Dances: Fun, But Still a Ways to Go

There's dancing in the streets these days!

Well, not exactly in the streets, but in our high school gymnasiums. And this is exactly as it should be. Our youngsters now have the opportunity, for the first time on a consistant basis in our various communities, to attend dances after their athletic events.

The parents clubs of three of our high schools, Miramonte, Del Valle and Acalanes, are now sponsoring after-game dances. In Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill such dances are sponsored by the recreation departments.

SEVERAL QUESTIONS have come up as a result of these dances. By and large these are questions that do not have to be answered immediately, but deserve some thought and consideration.

Let's note right off the bat that in no instance have any of the groups sponsoring dances for our youngsters had any dififculties with the youngsters.

Congratulations are obviously in order, especially to the parents who have taken the time and trouble to organize and chaperone the dances. For without them, our youngsters would still have no place to go after their games.

And the youngsters too should be commended for acting as we always knew they would—in a responsible fashion.

INCIDENTALLY, IT is fine that these parent groups are now sponsoring these dances, but credit should be given to the recreation districts in Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill, and St. Stephen's Church in Orinda, all of which were holding dances for high school youngsters after games before the parent clubs got around to it.

Now, here are some of the questions which have come up.

When the Miramonte Parents Club has a dance, the only students permitted to attend are Miramonte students and their dates. The dates can, with proper arrangements, come from another school. This is also true of the other parents club sponsored dances.

Now, when Miramonte plays Acalanes, say, or Del Valle, we have two dances in the immediate area—one sponsored by each of the parents clubs. We are basically one area. Would it be possible for the youngsters of one school to attend the dance sponsored by the parents club of the other school?

PERHAPS SOME arrangement could be worked out whereby this exchange of students at dances could be limited to the athletic league encompassing the various schools—or perhaps even to just the schools in the immediate area.

It would seem more iikely, or more workable, however, to restrict it to schools within the Acalanes district.

There are obvious problems involved. Our gyms are fairly small. It has been pointed out that even when the dance is restricted to youngsters from one school that many of the youngsters are bashful and don't mix easily. This problem might be aggravated by mixing students from two schools.

Another problem which has been raised is the difficulty of the parents of one school taking responsibility for not only their own youngsters, in the case of a multi-school dance, but also the responsibility for the youngsters of the visiting school.

Many are obviously reluctant to do this.

BUT HOW ABOUT evening the load by making it a reciprocal matter? Although you might be responsible for more youngsters at one dance, you would be relieved of the entire problem at the next one, thus spreading the time and energy necessary to prepare and supervise the dances.

On the other hand, this is a relatively new venture. This is the first year that Miramonte and Del Valle parents have done this, and perhaps they are right in moving cautiously.

We still feel that this program should be under the direct sponsorship of the schools, with an assist from the parents clubs, but the schools are unwilling to do this—or the district is at any rate.

Let's 'Keep it Clean!'

The county is really concerned with a dirty problem—the problem of litter along our highways and in our stream beds.

And this is not simply a matter of trying to keep our county clean so it "looks nice." It's a matter of thousands of dollars each year.

Needless to say, these are "your" dollars, because you pay taxes, and the county has to pay for the cleanup.

So concerned is the county, that a committee is considering recommending that the county publish a pamphlet urging public assistance in the highway beautification drice.

IT WOULD LIST official dumping grounds, cite laws regulating littering and be made avaliable through public agencies.

We have only one question to ask: Could the pamphlets end up as additional litter after motorists read them?

Incidentally, the county spent some $57,000 clearing our roads and stream beds of little last year—not a fantastic sum, but think of what that money could have done if it could have been spent in a "constructive" way, rather than picking up after a group of messy people.

One other item: Of course, none of us would be guilty of littering up our highways. Well, we had a Sun staff member one time who just happened to dump a load of trash into a convenient canyon.

HE SHALL REMAIN nameless, but needless to say, he was most embarrassed when deputies tracked him down, fined him, and made him clean it up.

We ran his picture in the paper, too!

So, even if you aren't worried about the cost of keeping our "home" clean, you might consider the possible embarrassment involved in being a litterbug.

It should not be necessary to mention that we live in one of the most beautiful areas in the world, and that simple "pride of ownership" should make us want to keep it clean.

Everybody feels that way, don't they?

Wanted: More Parks

By HELEN SCHARMER

Orinda Beautification Committee, the Lafayette Design Project, and the City of Walnut Creek, all have developed or are in the process of developing ambitious, forward-looking plans for improving the visual aspects of their communities.

They are doing this in a variety of ways, Orinda and Lafayette are landscaping in the village and downtown areas, Walnut Creek maintains constant vigilance on the appearance and good taste of the shopping areas.

Walnut Creek has a going recreation department, it is true, but its main park is located in the metropolitan area. Two other parks exist in this sprawling, expanding community—the Larkey Park site, consisting of ten and one-half acres and the four and one-half acre parksite in the San Miguel tract. The latter, to our knowledge, is the only tract in the entire mid-county area in which a park site was set aside by the builder.

The new city of Pleasant Hill has recreational facilities which Mayor Lenard Grote recently described as "adequate for present needs"; but what about the future?

All these communities are fringed by hills that are virtually unused, except for pasturing and watershed. The flat lands of Ygnacio Valley and the San Ramon Valley to the south are in agricultural use to some extent, but are rapidly being segmented by sprawling housing developments, and, aside from the hillsides in some cases, will soon be dotted with homes of a sameness too dismal to contemplate.

NOW IS THE TIME for idealistic, forward looking citizens and hard headed, businesslike planners to get together and find ways to set aside some of this open land for parks, wooded areas, nature study areas and game refuges in order to preserve the beautiful settings of the communities and to afford pleasant free space for people who soon will be dwellers in suburban cities.

To name a few spots that are exceptionally beautiful and could be set aside — under ideal conditions: the Bollinger canyon area between Lafayette and Moraga, the Shell Ridge area and beyond, some of which is owned by East Bay Municipal Utility District, the rest is under private or corporate ownership.

As our population grows, the need for recreation facilities within the economic means of the people becomes even more apparent. To only a few is given the privilege of seeing their children grow free and unfettered by the constant restraints brought on by close community living. These restraints need to be thrown off and a freer atmosphere sought from time to time.

ARE OUR SUPERVISORS thinking about these things? Where do our mayors and planners stand in these matters?

The time to consider undeveloped areas as possible lands for public use is now!

We Like It Here...

Where the West Begins! It's Anybody's Spring!

By MARIE MONAHAN

OUT WHERE THE West begins, Spring shows her fresh wet little face, bawls her head off & reaches for a white hanky to dry her big blue skies . . .

A look upward & the cumulus clouds are magnificent, like One Hundred & One French Poodles parading across the horizon . . . The sun & sky play Peekaboo between a barrage of cloudbursts, the day runs the gamut from gray to gay & there's a run on rainbows—with a pot of gold for EVERYBODY!

THE FIRST flowering fruit trees suffer from soakings & the golden boughs of Acacia heavy-heavy-hang, burdened under the watery weight of too many showers.

OUR NATIVE ceanothus is suddenly there in lilac & lavender-blue & a battalion of black crows come in for a landing to polkadot a lush green pasture out Moraga way.

It's Anybody's Spring in Suburbia! There's rain on the roof & rummage in the closets . . . Cupcakes in the oven & Yoyos in the kitchen . . . Gutters to get after & leaks to look into!

IT'S TIME for soggy sneakers & streaky slickers, bareheaded boys who HATE hats getting a good rinsing & boots, boots, boots marching in & out again or coming to rest in muddy disarray right in front of the door.

ON THE ROLLING hills of home, a vast verdant carpet spreads itself & the proud bosom of Mother Earth warms to welcome her creatures . . . The bucolic sound of a cow's bell is heard nearby.

A fleet of finches flies V-formation across the golf greens . . . A handsome stallion stands statue-still against a backdrop of vernal valley & the Baa, Baaa of a little blackfaced lamb brings up the rear of a herd of sheep.

Free forms of wild mustard mottle the fields & the countryside becomes a crazy quilt pattern of precise greenery . . . A small hill studded with grapevine shoots takes on the appearance of a Sunday ham studded with cloves.

IT'S ANYBODY'S SPRING: The store counters spill forth kaleidoscopic bolts of spring fabrics & form their perches atop elegant glass counters, heady new chapeaux bloom like rare tropic flowers.

A young mother totes her two tots & a new babe in arms & goes hunting for bargains on Broadway, her first outing in a long spell . . .

THE FIRST dry day, sunny & long-playing, a boon for Golfers & Gardeners. That's Mom mowing the lawn & Pop over there on the Nineteenth Hole!

The only crack in the car window on a drive through our Beautiful Country is not so much the old run-down places but the new box-top subdivisions drearily destined to be the slums of the future.

BUT LOOK AGAIN! The first narcissus nods a greeting along the road & somebody's pure-bred clown of a MUTT dog makes the roadside scene wearing a colorful collar of blue forget-me-nots.

It's Anybody's Spring! Two pony-tailed Tomboys guide their horses through the hodge-podge of shopping traffic & the dime store counters are wearing green too, with cards & trimmings in honor of St. Pat.

SUDDENLY the bountiful bouquets of artificial flowers pale alongside the prospect of fresh ones & a middle-aged matron spends her whole afternoon squeezing into every new swimsuit in the apparel shop.

THE Post Office is all out of Income Tax forms, the cry of the Tax Assessor is heard throughout the land & I'll bet you a new bonnet, it's going to be Everybody's Spring!

THE WAGES OF PREJUDICE

BROTHERHOOD WEEK
February 18-25, 1962
THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF CHRISTIANS AND JEWS

Letters to The Editor

Edtor:

Taxation without representation has always been repulsive to the American public. The Lafayette Improvement Association has apparently decided to form their own little corporate city, relying on the sales tax revenue from the non-corporate residents to sustain the "city" ecenomy.

In this I feel that they are counting on an apathetic attitude on the part of the residents of the outlying area. They could be wrong. As pointed out in this meeting February 7 at the Town Hall, the diversion of sales tax monies to the city rather than the county "WOULD COST THE PEOPLE PERHAPS TWO TO THREE CENTS ON THE TAX RATE." From experience we know that original estimates are usually on the low side, but I feel the taxpayers will oppose any plan that increases their rate, especially under the methods being employed by the incorporation proponents. We should be included in any vote regarding incorporation.

We have no choice but to boycott the area. Some friends who rent store space will be hurt, but we hope they will help us change the minds of the Downtown Property Owners' Association. Right now I speak only as an individual, but I feel that the property owners of the remainder of Lafayette will join in the protest —almost 100 per cent. There will be no name calling and no distasteful propaganda. However, once the incorporation petition has been filed, I feel sure the true voters of Lafayette will use the boycott plus more legal methods to combat the plan.

MELVILLE D. SHINE

INCORPORATION
Dear Editor:

Regarding incorporation of downtown Lafayette, who is really pushing it and why? Facts indicate how foolish a move it would be, so what is the real purpose of the current drive?

As it stands it is made to look like a tax grab by the downtown property owners. This indeed would be selfish. When they offer incorporation to the voters who may accept it, the stage has been set. The voters can then be selfish even to the extent of doing away with the sales tax in order to lower their cost of living. Renting or being small property owners they would be little effected by the burden of the property tax they could vote. The burden would fall on the business property owner—who in the first place set the stage.

How easily a band of 500 voters can be lead. They might decide to allow the tax (sales) to exist, to be used for items of more satisfaction to the voter instead of the "candelabrum" studded Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Let's see the real issue come out to face the public.

GAVIN N. HIGH

JOHN KNOX
Dear Editor:

Thank you for the recent mention in your column. I always appreciate getting the latest rumors from what I hope will be my new district. When you hear rumor No. 4, please let me know.

I noticed some of the papers ran a release listing George Miller's term as expiring. He will have to forego the pleasure of another campaign until 1964, however.

JOHN T. KNOX.

Under The Sun

Who Will the Demos Run Against John Baldwin?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Who will the Democrats run against republican Congressman John Baldwin?

Late tomorrow afternoon we will know.

Tomorrow morning members of the county's 26 democratic clubs will gather at the Concord Inn for the "Pre-primary Endorsement Convention of Contra Costa County Federation of Democratic Clubs." (Whew!)

The spotlight is on the race for congressman. The two assemblymen are now Democrats, so no party problem. Has anyone heard who the Republicans are going to run against Assemblyman Jerrie Waldie and John Knox? State Senator George Miller, Democrat, has two more years to serve.)

In this corner . . .

A big, three-cornered battle is being waged for the democratic congressional endorsement by Harold Mutnick, Charles Weidner and Joel Fort. They've been campaigning, speaking before the clubs, sending out literature and press releases, all aiming toward tomorrow's vote. It has been like a real campaign, with charges and counter-charges, mud-slinging and dickering.

Each candidate must bring out as many of his supporters as possible. He must convince as many of the 1700 club members as possible to come to the convention and vote for him. Each member has an individual vote. They do not vote by "clubs." I am told that the largest attendance was 386 members at the 1958 Martinez convention, when Howard Jewel was nominated.

The big question . . .

Who will win?

Chuck Weidner, seven-year Pleasant Hill resident, apparently has the support of party leaders and the three major democrat office holders (Miller, Waldie and Knox), according to Weidner, as well as his opposition. Thus, he must be considered the favorite.

Observers tell me that Harold Mutnick, Lafayette attorney, is running on an "anti-boss" platform, claiming that Weidner represents the "democratic machine"—or that the so-called machine has selected Weidner.

Other observers (isn't that a wonderful word?) say this is true. Party leaders have watched Mutnick campaign for many, many months; they did not want Mutnick as the party's nominee against Baldwin (for various reasons); they then went looking for someone who was willing to run; they settled on Weidner.

Weidner, a consultant and administrator for union-employer negotiated health and pension plans, has not run for office before but has been active in politics and the community.

Mutnick won the democratic primary for the assembly some years ago, but was defeated by Don Doyle. Mutnick was a candidate for supervisor and lost.

Calling Dr. Fort . . .

Last to enter the race is Joel Fort, M.D., director of the State Center (in Oakland) for Treatment and Education on Alcoholism. Dr. Fort is recognized as an expert on alcoholism and narcotics and has a list of "credits" a mile long.

Dr. Fort must overcome his 1) late start and 2) the accusation of having moved to Contra Costa county "just to run for Congress." While he has been active in medical circles in Alameda and Contra Costa counties, Dr. Fort, until a few weeks ago, lived in Berkeley. He has since moved to El Cerrito, thus being accused of being a "newcomer."

He points out that, under the Constitution, a congressional candidate does not have to live in his district, just in the state. (I didn't realize this, did you?) His supporters cite John Kennedy as a congressman who never lived in his own district.

Does the convention bind?

Of course, any one of these men can run for Congress regardless of what the convention decides. I suspect that only the man who receives the endorsement will run, because of party support, finances, etc.

(Remember when the Republicans held their convention and selected John Baldwin?)

This convention system is both good and bad, but that's another column.

Anyhow, many eyes will be on the Concord Inn tomorrow to see who'll win the battle.

Letters to The Editor

CRUSADE
Dear Editor:

President John F. Kennedy recently stated, "One of our major goals is to help people understand the complexity of the world in which we live and the variety of the problems we face.

"Without understanding there cannot be intelligent action. Ignorance and prejudice —two of democracy's greatest foes—can be dispelled by the free flow of information and ideas."

One of the basic goals of the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade and the Citizens' Committee in Oakland was the free flow of information and ideas.

Apparently Attorney General Mosk is in total disagreement, since he resorts to the most vicious attacks upon this same free flow of information and ideas.

Deceitful attacks upon innocent people are uncalled for, and when Mosk goes out of his way to make these attacks, he disgraces the high office of attorney general of this state.

EYE SORES
Dear Editor:

Bravo and Hear, Hear! Re: Unslightly "eye sores" in Lafayette. I have hesitated to write about Danny Van Allen's etc., because I like and respect the Van Allens and others who are guilty of not observing how this detracts from the beauty and clean look of Lafayette.

MRS. BLALOCK

PAT BROWN
Dear Herman:

This is just a note to tell you how much I enjoyed the California Newspaper Publishers Association convention and how much satisfaction it gave me to have a hand in the presentation of your award.

I say, let's do it again next year.

EDMUND G. BROWN
Governor of California

(Editor's note: This was the annual CNPA convention held this year in Coronado, where The Sun received the first place award for "Community Promotion" among large California weeklies.)

VOLUNTEERS from the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center prepare for this year's Easter Fair in the Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek. The Mesdames Frank Tebbs, left, Ed Thomas and M. E. Wierenga are looking over materials for the April 7 event, which will be "A Day at the Seattle Fair." A drawing will be held at 3:30 p.m. The main prizes are two trips to the Seattle World's Fair. Sociologist Will Speak to Diablo Morning Forum

Dr. David Dressler, sociologist, educator and criminologist, will speak to the Diablo Tuesday Morning Forum on the subject "The Enemy Inside U.S.A." The lecture will be held Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. in the Diablo Country Club.

At present, Dr. Dressler is associate professor of sociology, Long Beach State College. Previously he taught at Columbia University and the University of Southern California.

Immediately preceding the lecture, at 10 a.m., coffee will be served. Mrs. David Stewart will assist Mrs. Thomas Brighton and Mrs. Louis Plummer. Mrs. Clifford Foskett will do the floral arrangements, and Mrs. Thomas Peterson and Mrs. Robert Bartlett will collect tickets. In the lobby handling ticket sales, will be Mrs. Laurence Curtola and Mrs. Irving Kraemer.

The public is most cordially invited to attend these lectures. At the following one on April 10, Harold Gilliam, newspaperman, author of the best seller "San Francisco Bay," will speak on "Discovery of California."

Jr. Leaguers Plan Gala 'Good Old Daze' Party

By a similar name, a different party this year will be given March 9 by the Junior League of Oakland when members hostess another king-sized benefit bash to be called "The Good Old Daze." Years prior, the gala has been called "The Daze of Gold," but this year's unique after-dinner party is bound to score as much, or possibly more, of a success.

Jack London Hall in Oakland's Jack London Square will be the setting for next Friday's fun-time fund-raiser. Entertainment will feature "The Californians," an internationally famous barbershop chorus affiliated with The Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America Inc., better known as the S.P.E.B.S.Q. S.A.

The aforementioned top harmony group won the International Barber Shop Chorus Championship in 1957 and have thrice been winner of the Far Western District Championships. They will harmonize on songs of the "Good Old Daze," according to Mrs. Robert Wells, Ways and Means chairman. Her committee includes Mrs. Paul Andrew, Mrs. Robert Angell, Mrs. Edgar Chappell, Mrs. Johnson Clark, Mrs. Richard Crouse, Mrs. Robert Hails, Mrs. Winslow Hall, Mrs. John McCullock, Mrs. Ward Madeira, Mrs. James Nutting, Mrs. William Richardson, Mrs. John Steward, Mrs. Charles Sutton, Mrs. Peter Swartz and Mrs. Thomas Swartz.

The league's provisional class will assume the roles of hostesses, gaily costumed in colorful garb of the "Good Old Daze" and after the show members and their guests will dance to music provided by the popular Red Garter Band.

Approximately 50 members on the country side of the tunnel will take part in the evening plans, it was announced by Mrs. William Channell of Lafayette who is the president of the large membership of Junior Leaguers in the Bay Area.

Susan Capri Becomes Bride of Frank Bryant

In a ceremony Sunday afternoon in the Church of Santa Maria in Orinda, Susan Lee Capri, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Capri of 140 Fiesta Circle, Orinda, became the bride of Frank Rupert Bryant of El Cerrito.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of taffeta peau de soie and Chantilly lace. Her bouffant skirt was appliqued with lace and finisher an a chapel train. A pearl Swedish crown held her four-tiered elbow-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, white phaleonopsis and orchids.

Her attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Joel Alan Van Buskirk of Walnut Creek and little Miss Sherry Lynn Capri. They wore ballerina dresses of American Beauty peau de soie with barrel skirt, scoop neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Their flowers were crescent shaped bouquets of elegance carnations, ivy leaves and matching ribbon.

Best man Warren Conklin of Berkeley was assisted by ushers Wesley Hart, Kim Farley of Berkeley and Joel Alan Van Buskirk of Walnut Creek.

Miss Capri chose champagne and gold brocade for her costume. Her flowers were pink and white cymbidium orchids.

The interior of the church and Mike Lynn's, scent of the reception afterwards, were decorated with white carna-

Lake Tahoe, the couple will make their home in Moraga. The bride is a graduate of Berkeley High School and is working as a secretary.

The benedict, the son of Mrs. Charlotte Bryant and the late Howard T. Bryant of El Cerrito. He is a graduate of Oakland Junior College and San Jose State, and vice president of the Northern California Hockey League.

Davies Tour In Caribbean

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Davies of 3827 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, are passengers on a grand tour of the Caribbean aboard the Stella Polaris. They will visit the ports in the West Indies, the Bahamas, and Panama.

'4 K's' Will Highlight Luncheon

An appearance by the "Four K's," a popular Bay Area vocal trio and their accompanist, will highlight luncheon at noon and 1 p.m. at the Therapy Center Terrace tomorrow.

Their show will climax a week-long gourmet salute to many nations of the world. Gastronomic specialties of foreign lands will include China, Italy, India, Mexico, France and Germany.

The "Four K's" are a group of secretaries from the Kaiser Corporation. Maedine Foletti, Ila Sindel, Marilyn Secor and Kay Chenoweth all sing with the Kaiser Choristers and the Singing Secretaries from the Kaiser Company in addition to appearing as the "Four K's."

Plan now to visit the Therapy Center Terrace during this week of international gourmet cuisine. Reservations may be obtained by calling YE 5-0121.

The Terrace, which is an all-unit project of the seventeen units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, is located at 1475 East Newell Avenue in Walnut Creek.

Ahwahnee Guild Celebrates

Spring flowers set the scene recently as Ahwahnee Guild president Mrs. Fred Sanders welcomed Mesdames Laird Durham, Robert Hanson, Richard Ingraham, A. M. Rabun, Charles Winter, Marion Hvidt and Roland Giusti at a membership tea held at the home of Mrs. Reed Bells.

This John Muir Hospital Auxiliary group has been active in the recent fund drive that put the hospital's building campaign over the top.

Mrs. Tudor Jones recently arranged a spaghetti dinner and dance for guild members.

"Cocktails on Cloud Nine," Ahwahnee's main fund raising event of the year, will again be held at the John Nejedly home, it was announced.

Sub-Debs Will Model

"Flower colors" and budding models will move into the Easter Fair spotlight at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Vibrant oranges and pinks, the colors of lush tropical blossoms, will glow on the runways during the Sub-Deb Fashion Show, an Easter Fair tradition. Models will be members of the junor branches of Children's Hospital of the East Bay. Fashions will be from a Berkeley specialty shop (Sather Gate Apparel).

Striking combinations of vivid hues — tropical blue with green, sunny yellow with hot orange — will be evident throughout the sub-deb fashion parade, according to Mrs. Sandy Beals of Sather Apparel in Berkeley, coordinator of the show. And, she says, silhouettes are more graceful this year, with bell skirts and flared hemlines.

Commentator for the show will be Mrs. Augustus B. Guy, also of Sather Gate Apparel.

At intermission time, mistress of ceremonies Jane Rusconi of Alameda and Bud Branch, will introduce a series of entertaining acts.

Sub-debs modeling in the show will include: From Diablo, Judy Abbot of Hickory; from Lafayette, Janice Gulley and Suzy Norton of Daphne; from Orinda, Holly Borden of Hickory, Bonnie Kent, Ann Lincoln and Sharon Nielsen of Ailanthus; from Walnut Creek. Lynne Allasia, Lynne Grove and Laurie Vann, all of Genista.

Women's Club Will Meet in Walnut Creek

The Mt. Diablo district of the California Federation of Women's Clubs will meet Thursday in the Women's Club Building at 224 Lincoln Avenue, Walnut Creek.

The Lafayette Suburban Club will host the coffee hour at 9:15 a.m. under Mrs. Gorden E. Frazell. Mrs. J. Vaugh Shahbazian of Walnut Creek, district president, will officiate at the meeting at 10 a.m. and the Lafayette Women's Club will serve lunch at noon.

Hostesses for the luncheon will be Mrs. Don Blackwood, Lafayette Women's Club president, and Mrs. John Cline, president of the Suburban Women's Club, assisted by Mrs. F. T. Hawksworth and Mrs. H. N. Breckling.

The theme "Shamrock and Art" will be carried out in the table decorations by Mrs. F. T. Hawksworth, Mrs. Charles Grant and Mrs. T. J. Clark. Frank Bradford will speak on "Togetherness With Our Youth."

High school seniors majoring in art will display their art work for the Hallmark contest, according to Mrs. E. Plescia, art chairman. Judges for the contest will be James McCray, University of California art department; John Richard of Richmond Art Center and Mr. Krell from College of Art and Crafts.

Ticket chairmen for the occasion are Mrs. E. Heckler and Mrs. W. C. Meyer of Lafayette.

Cardinal Unit To Hold Annual Rummage Sale

Cardinal Unit of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center will hold its annual rummage sale tomorrow at the Veterans Hall in Walnut Creek from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

On sale will be used clothing, jewelry, household goods, books, shoes and bric-a-brac. Chairmen are the Mesdames Jack Jackson, Ray Cassani and D. G. Ford. All proceeds will be donated to Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

+ Sorority Notes +

CHI OMEGA

Alumnae from far and near will be arriving at the Berkeley chapter of Chi Omega Monday evening for the annual dinner and corporation meeting.

The active members of the sorority will be introduced to the "old blues" during a house tour, taking place before dinner.

Reports of the corporation's activities during the past year will be led by the president, Mrs. Ogden Kiesel of Lafayette. Other board members from this area include the Mesdames Milton M. Rowley of Walnut Creek; Joseph Lang of Orinda, and James Gustafson, and Mrs. Igor Blake of Lafayette.

Medics to Entertain At Fair

"Melodious Mystery Medics" will be a feature of Children's Hospital of the East Bay Easter Fair tonight at the Claremont Hotel.

Moving into the spotlight at 8:30 p.m. will be a group of talented East Bay physicians says Mrs. Duncan Knudsen of Lafayette and Poplar Branch, chairman of the evening program.

"The names of the stars are secret," says Mrs. Knudsen, with a bow to medical ethics.

A Dixieland band, a skilled cellist, a classical pianist, a string trio and a "cool" jazz piano player will be among the entertainers, with doctors filling the chrous lines!

Tickets for "Melodious Mystery Medics," at $1.75 per person are available from branch members and will be available at the door tonight.

The 24th annual Easter Fair will open at noon today with a concert by the U. S. Air Firce Dance Orchestra. And, the upbeat of the military baton will lead off a parade of exciting and tuneful events celebrating the hospital's 50th anniversary.

At hgh-styled fashion luncheon with styles from I. Magnin will follow the Air Force concert. Mrs. Duncan Knudsen of Lafayette is one of the three fashion commentators for the show.

Models for this Easter Fair event will be Mrs. D. G. Ellis of Orinda and Hilltop, and Mrs. John S. Morken of Walnut Creek and Jasmine.

Tomorrow night there will be a Sub-Deb Fashion Show and "Gaslight Gaieties," an evening of fun with the banjo-pounding band from San Francisco's Red Garter. The Fair will close Sunday with a tea dance to the music of Anson Weeks orchestra. All events will be at Berkeley's Hotel Claremont.

Running features during the Fair include the traditional display of dazzling table settings and interesting collections, combined "Art in Action" demonstrations of flower arranging, Japanese brush painting and weaving. Members of Bamboo Branch will make clever party favors and decorations in their "Holiday Workshop."

Mrs. Clyde Diddle of 'Oakland, a member of Hill Junior Branch, is coordinating chairman of Easter Fair.

Women in The Sun

FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1962

Gowns, Goren, Cuisine Features

"Goren" and gowns, together with gourmet recipes, will be featured at the Therapy Center Terrace during the month of March.

Gay gowns for teenagers from the Kladeeze Pony Tail Shop will be shown during the luncheon hour on Saturday, March 10. Models for this event will be members of Job's Daughters, Bethel 325. A special luncheon designed to tempt the high school set will be served.

"Grown up" gowns from Adeline's in Alamo, featuring new citrus shades for spring, will be modeled Monday, March 12, at noon and again at 1 p.m. Mrs. Harold Vincent and Mrs. Stuart Wight, both members of the Flicker Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, will arrange the showing. Models will include the Mesdames William Nuoffer of Swallow Unit.

Intermediate bridge lessons, emphasizing the Goren system, will be held at 9 a.m. on Thursday mornings from March 29 to May 31. This series of 10 lessons will be taught by Mrs. Doreen Trower of Oakland, a well-known bridge expert. Reservations for this popular course will be accepted by Mrs. Peter Kosta, 283-8337, or Mrs. Robert Olson, YE 5-5221, before March 15.

Gourmet luncheons are served daily except Sunday at the Terrace which is located at 1475 East Newell Avenue in Walnut Creek. Coffee is served from 10 a.m. and luncheon from noon until 2 p.m. Group reservations for meetings, bridge parties, and other Terrace events may be obtained by calling YE 5-0121. All proceeds from the Terrace are donated to the physical and occupational therapy programs for the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1962

The Ski Line . . . .

Ski Meets Becoming a Popular Attraction

By HEC HANCOCK

A strange phenomenon has been taking place in the Sierra during the past year or so.

Namely, people in goodly numbers have been trekking to the high country to watch ski competitions. The latest case in point is the crowd of approximately 5000 that was on hand to watch the National Four-Way Ski Tournament last weekend at Heavenly Valley.

A throng of these proportions is roughly the equivalent of 50,000 attending a Raider game at Kezar.

This resurgence of interest in ski racing can be traced to the 1960 Olympics. I say resurgence because the Sierra, particularly up in Johnsville in Plumas County, is known as the cradle of skiing in America. The hardy souls of the area were risking life and limb for fame and fortune on king-sized skis back before the turn of the century.

These are the guys that used 14 or 15-foot skis, and took the mountain straight. Not much slalom technique, but those downhills, wow!

However, for many years preceding the Squaw Valley Olympics, ski competitions were rather exclusive affairs. Not by choice, but attendance usually consisted of the competitors, their staunchest friends and loyal wives. A small, select, albeit a foolhardy group.

Coupled with the mushrooming growth of skiing was the public exposure to top-flight ski competitions via the Olympics. The end result has been the creation of a substantial audience, capable of viewing the proceedings with a critical eye.

Some of the more important events still on tap are the NCAA championships to be held at Squaw the latter part of March, and the Silver Belt Race at Sugar Bowl late in April. Make a note.

This weekend, the Far West Ski Association's junior point race is being held at Heavenly Valley. Eighty boys and girls are entered in Classes 1, 2 and 3, vying for the 15 slots on the FWSA team that will compete in the national junior championships at Whitefish, Montana, March 16-17-18.

A giant slalom will be conducted Friday, two runs of the slalom Saturday, and the downhill on Sunday. All races start at 10 a.m.

Due to the postponement of the Mammoth junior point race earlier, three events will run, with each competitor judged on his top two efforts.

While not quite on the same level of competition, a lively group of youngsters from Orlando Chiavini's class at Stanley School in Lafayette went through their paces last weekend at Squaw Valley.

A straw vote was conducted on the bus trip home to award suitable pins to Helen Pangburn, most improved girl skier; Ann Julius, best girl skier; Doug Walker, most improved boy skier, and Glenn Schneider, best boy skier.

It seems superfluous to say that excellent snow conditions are to be found throughout the Sierra loop.

Dodge Ridge reports over 100 inches of pack. The Nugget Races will be conducted Sunday, and open to anyone that wishes to enter.

Echo Summit Ski Area reports 100 to 135 inches, with one foot of new snow, all facilities operating.

Sugar Bowl, Soda Springs and Donner Ski Ranch on Donner Summit all have upwards of ten feet of pack.

Alpine Meadows reports excellent snow conditions, with 110 inches at the lodge to 135 inches on the slopes.

Tim Sullivan, Alpine Meadows general manager, reports that a new chair lift will be added by next year. To meet the increasing skier demand, the parking lot will be increased five-fold, and the access road will be paved.

Skiing marches on.

A FOUL LOOK on the face of Bob Metez (33) as he went in the air to halt the scoring effort of Las Lomas' Neil Howard (10) was symbolic. A foul was called on the San Ramon guard in this third quarter action and Howard's scoring attempt was thwarted.

Ouch! Cellar Door Slammed On PH Cagers

If aging in the cellar improves basketball teams like it does fine wines, Pleasant Hill should look forward to a much better cage record next season—this year's squad wound up the DVAL season with a 2-10 record.

Pacifica slammed the cellar door shut on the Rams in their final game Friday as the Spartans marked up a 71-53 triumph over the Pleasant Hill hoopsters.

Neither team showed much in the way of ball control and the game was ragged throughout. Pacifica did dominate the backboards with Herb Meeks using his 6'2" hight to advantage at the basket. He also tallied 21 points to lead the winners, a bare point ahead of his running mate, Jim Morris.

Art Poulin's cagers were led by Perry and Al Oxley. Perry had 12 and Al marked up 10. Pacifica led at half-time 38-27.

COLLEGE PARK 55
CLAYTON VALLEY 49

Clayton Valley pulled within two points of College Park in the closing minutes of Friday night's game but the Falcons dumped in four free-throws to take the contest, 55-49.

Bud Beemer marked up 23 points as he tried to pull the Eagles to an upset victory. Coach John Nonnickson steadied the CP squad and the full court press which they applied did the trick.

College Park's starting quintet stayed in the game and almost evenly divided the 55 points five ways. Three had 11 points—Sytkowski, Mower and Ament; Miller had 12 points and Roberts 10.

MT. DIABLO 59
ANTIOCH 38

The Red Devils of Mt. Diablo lived up to their nickname last Friday night when they upset favored Antioch by a 59-38 score and assured themselves of a first division finish in the DVAL cage loop.

Happiest over the Mt. Diablo win was the Pittsburg team which was thus assured at least a tie for first place.

Four men on the winning team ran their individual scoring into double figures. High man for the Devils was Fred Crummett with 14 points. The other top scorers were Tim Lechinsky, 12; Rich Clough, 11, and Rich Embick, 10. Antioch's Rounsaville was high man in the contest with 15 points.

Miramonte Keeps Lead in B Loop

Miramonte B's defeated Acalanes, 37-30, last Tuesday in the Foothill League for their ninth win in 10 games.

Geoffrey Anderson paced the Mats with 11 points followed by Steve Cummings and Pete Boyle with 10 and six respectively.

Bob Medak scored eight for the Dons and teammate Tom Strain had seven.

Del Valle edged Piedmont, 37-32, in an overtime contest.

Bruce Black scored 13 points for the Trojans, now 5-6 for the season.

Las Lomas rounded up the week's action by dumping San Ramon in a real thriller, 49-48.

The Knights and Wolves are now both 3-7.

Prep Schedule

TONIGHT

Acalanes at San Ramon*
Alhambra at Miramonte*
(Games at 8 p.m.)

EMOTIONAL GAMUT was run in the closing seconds of the San Ramon-Las Lomas basketball game last week, as you can tell by the face of Larry DeRushia, coach of the Wolves. At left, the mentor is verging on despair as his cagers trail with only three minutes of the game remaining. That's when Charlie Bogue started making his appearance at the foul line and chunked in a total of six free throws. The last two of the charity throws came in the final seconds of the contest and gave San Ramon a one-point victory over their rivals. This brought on a the jubilant expression shown by the applauding coach and two of his lads as the final gun sounded.

San Ramon, Acalanes In Last Second Wins

They rescrambled the Foothill Athletic League cage race Wednesday, February 21, when the Wolves of San Ramon climbed into second place at the expense of Las Lomas, 42-41, while Piedmont climbed into undisputed first place with a 48-38 win over Del Valle.

Adding to the confusion was the cinching of fourth place by Acalanes with a 41-39 cliff-hanger victory over Miramonte.

SAN RAMON 42
LAS LOMAS 41

San Ramon's victory was one of the most spectacular of the current season, which has been filled with slim-margin contests. The Wolves came from behind in the final period to chalk up the win after the third quarter ended 34-24 in favor of the Knights. Las Lomas led at half-time 19-17.

The actual victory was pulled off by Charlie Bogue's pair of free-throws in the closing seconds as the Knights held a 41-40 edge. The pair of charity buckets added up to the final score of the game.

Bogue garnered 10 points in the game. So did Bob Mertz before he fouled out of the affair late in the final frame while Chris Reed controlled the backboards for the Wolves. High point man of the game was Bob Nichols of Las Lomas with 17.

ACALANES 41
MIRAMONTE 39

Miramonte almost upset the dope and pushed Acalanes to the final second of the game before a field goal by Walta Cardinet broke the tie and gave the Dons the 41-39 victory. Cardinet was the only Acalanes player to spread his point total to double column and that with a mere 11.

The losing Matadors had three men sharing the scoring honors, all surpassing the Don's top man. Totals showed Brad Peters high with 13 while Bruce Nickerson and Mike McQuaid each chalked up an even dozen.

Acalanes gained undisputed fourth place since two teams were tied for second.

PIEDMONT 48
DEL VALLE 38

Del Valle was able to reduce the halftime lead five points, having trailed 37-23 at the intermission, but the trimming failed to be enough to whip Piedmont which moved into undisputed first place.

Bob Kovats shared scoring honors with Piedmont's Rich Prestwood as each of them tossed in enough shots to total 14 points. Kovats teammate, Bill O'Toole was right behind with 13.

DVC Closes At Vallejo

Diablo Valley College winds up its 1961-62 basketball season tonight with a Coast Conference game at Vallejo.

The Vikings are now 7-6 in league play following a win over Menlo College Tuesday night in Pleasant Hill.

DVC led all the way against Menlo, winning, 67-54. It was the Viking's second win of the year over Menlo.

The Vikings led at halftime, 27-20.

San Coston paced the winners with 20 points. Tom Nichols had 16 and George Smylie finished with 12.

Falcon JVs Lose Twice

Sam Martinelli scored 10 points in a losing effort against Clayton Valley for the College Park junior varsity cagers last Tuesday.

The final score was 42-32.

The Falcons were defeated again on Friday by Pleasant Hill, 38-22.

Paul Fitzgerald was high-point man with eight markers.

The JVs have one more game against Mt. Diablo. Their record is now 4-6.

The frosh finished the season two weeks ago with a record of 0-9.

Acalanes Basketball Coach Sets Scoring Record

Danville Basketball League had a new scoring champion this week, the second this season.

He is Bert Barnett, basketball coach at Acalanes High School and former Louisiana State University player.

Barnett racked up 43 points for Martinez in a scoring outburst against Vern S. Ryan to take the championship away from Ron Thom, who copped it earlier this year with a 37-point splurge.

Thom, athletic director of Stanley Intermediate School in Lafayete, set his record on February 1 in a game against Shoe Stable which his team lost, 59-57, despite his 37point output.

Barnett set the new record with 14 field goals and 15 free throws. He hit 15 of 17 charity tosses for an 88 per cent average.

LEAGUE STANDING

	W	L	Pct.
Shoe Stable	8	2	.800
Diamond	7	3	.700
Aerojet	6	3	.667
Martinez	5	5	.500
Pearson	2	5	.286
Ryan	1	9	.111

Bobby Dold of Carter Glass was the scoring champion until Thom took it away from him. Dold accounted for 36 points on his best night. Bob Gomez of Diamond Building Materials was the record holder with 33 points until Dold took over.

In the record-setting game last week, won by Martinez, 92-54, Barnett was aided by his brother, Hal, who accounted for 16 more points.

'Bob Amauric, former Utah State athlete, also scored 16 and Dave McCosker, former University of Santa Clara player, got 14.

ERIK KELLNER, former San Ramon high school athlete, and Leonard Thompson, former Las Lomas basketballer, each scored 12 points for Ryan for high-point honors.

In a tightly contested game, Shoe Stable pulled away from Aerojet in the final frame and won, 72-62. Aerojet was leading at the end of the third quarter, 49-47. John Stimel was high-point man for Shoe Stable with 21, while Herb Kiger took the honors for Aerojet with 23.

Diamond Building Materials handed Shoe Stable their second loss of the season and climbed into second place, a half game behind the league leaders. The score was 58-45.

Shoe Stable started the game with only four players, but finished with six upon arrival of their late starters. Playing a keep-away game for the first quarter, Shoe Stable was trailing by only one point, 10-9, at the buzzer.

John Longaker led the scoring for Diamond with 14. Jim Black and Larry Weeshoff tied for high point honors for the losers with 14 apiece.

Pleasant Hill JVs Finish With 8-4 Mark

The Pleasant Hill junior varsity scored two impressive victories over College Park and Pacifica last week.

The Rams downed the Falcons, 38-22, on Tuesday. Mike Hayes scored 14 points for the victors.

On Friday the Rams smashed Pacifica, 35-19, as Keith Harris was high scorer with nine tallies.

The JVs finished the season in third place with a record of 8-4.

Piedmont Clinches Title—FAL Finale Is Tonight

Clan Thumps Miramonte To End Las Lomas Reign

Determined Piedmont brushed aside luckless Miramonte Tuesday afternoon in Orinda, 70-56, to clinch the undisputed basketball championship of the Foothill Athletic League.

With the win, the Clan ended three years of league domination by Las Lomas, the dethroned champion.

Prior to winning the title outright last season, Las Lomas had shared the title the previous two years—first with Acalanes, then with the Dons and Miramonte.

Piedmont ended the season with a 10-2 mark while Las Lomas and San Ramon both have three losses.

The Knights clinched a share of second place with a win over Acalanes Tuesday, but San Ramon will also have to whip the Dons tonight in order to gain a share of the runnerup slot.

PIEDMONT 70
MIRAMONTE 56

Piedmont started fast against Miramonte and never looked back after opening up a 7-0 lead in the opening four minutes.

A pair of baskets by senior forward Mike McQuaid pulled the Matadors to within three points at the midway mark of the quarter, 7-4, but this was the closest the Mats ever could get.

It was 16-8 at the end of the quarter.

With guard Steve Hogan and center Bob Foskett doing most of the damage, the Scots bounded to a 34-22 lead at halftime.

MIRAMONTE managed to keep the score respectable in the first half on the shooting of reserves Steve Thaman and Rod Robinson who accounted for 10 of the Mats' 14 second quarter points.

Piedmont outscored Miramonte from the floor in the first half, 11-10, but opened up the margin of victory at the free throw line, connecting 12 times in 14 tries.

The Mats had only four chances from the free throw line, connecting twice.

Game totals showed that Piedmont had only a 27-26 field goal edge on Miramonte.

The Mats never could make up the free throw edge and even with McQuaid hitting five baskets in the third quarter, fell further behind.

It was 56-39 going into the final eight minutes.

Miramonte, winner only twice in league play, hasn't been a team to give up this season, and with junior guard Bruce Nickerson hitting four straight goals midway through the period, the Mats chopped the margin to 64-55.

HOWEVER, Piedmont slowed the game down and the Mats were through.

Foskett topped all scorers with 23 points. He had 14 in the first half.

Hogan was close behind with 20 points—12 in the opening two quarters.

Guard Rick Prestwood was the third Piedmont player in double figures with 16.

McQuaid topped the Miramonte team with 18 points. Nickerson added 12 more while Robinson finished with 10.

LAS LOMAS 49
ACALANES 42

Las Lomas cinched at least a portion of second place in the Foothill Athletic League Tuesday afternoon when it thumped host-team Acalanes to the tune of 49-42. San Ramon could move into a tie for second if it is victorious in tonight's game with Acalanes.

Actually, Las Lomas looked like a losing team in the first half, scoring only seven points in the opening period and trailing at the intermission by a 22-20 score.

In the third period Bob Nichols hit 10 of his 22 points to spark a Las Lomas rally. Greg Bertagnolli added 13 points to the winners total while the high man for Acalanes was Walt Cardinet with 12.

DEL VALLE 59
ALHAMBRA 41

Del Valle's cage squad proved it had the Indian sign on Alhambra Tuesday afternoon by scoring a second victory over that aggregation, 59-41. Coach Bob Pedersen's team whipped the Bulldogs 42-33 in their previous meeting for the only league victories chalked up by the Trojans.

There was no question as to the outcome from the start. In fact Del Valle opened up with a 10-point margin in the first stanza 18-8 and led by 30-15 at halftime. The third quarter found the Trojans in front 44-24.

Bill O'Tolle with 17 points and Dave Paul with 14 were the top shotmakers for the Trojans.

Foster, Werner Score Mat Wins As PH Gets 3rd

Heavyweight Tom Foster and a 106-pound teammate, Terry Werner, won titles in the Northern California Invitational wrestling tournament at San Jose last weekend but Pleasant Hill finished third behind Hayward and Cupertino.

Foster wound up his prep school career in the grappling game and has lost only one match in his last 79. He captured the crown in the 194-pound class and had taken the 178-pound title as a junior and the 168-pound honors as a sophomore.

PLEASANT Hill's other champion — Terry Werner — took the 106-pound title against competition from 75 other schools in the meet. A junior, this is his first year of sports competition and has won 22 out of 27 matches. He began the season as a second-stringer.

Pleasant Hill had a fourth place winner, John Shinault, in the 98-pound division. Other Contra Costa grapplers finishing among the leaders were Jeff Davis of Acalanes, third in the 156-pound class, and Larry Topping of Pacifica, fourth at 168 pounds.

NAMED the outstanding wrestler of the tournament was Alan Seigal of Arroyo, a 130- pounder.

The champions: 98 — Nakamura, Gillroy; 106—Werner, Pleasant Hill; 115 Soto, Tracy; 123—Welch, Cupertino; 130—Seigal, Arroyo; 136—Mikayo, Santa Cruz; 141 — Blacklock, Cupertino; 148 — Evans, Santa Cruz; 156 — Orear, Hayward; 168—M. McCarthy, Hayward; 178 — T. McCarthy, Hayward! 194 — Foster, Pleasant Hill; Unlimited — Porter, Oakland.

Cal Cage Coach Will Speak at San Ramon Fete

Rene Herrerias, basketball coach for the University of California, will be the guest speaker when the second annual banquet honoring San Ramon High School athletes is held March 26.

Announcement that Herrerias had been obtained as the speaker was made by Harry McKinley and Lee Canterbury, co-chairmen of the sports committee which is staging the event in conjunction with the high school PTA.

More than 100 fathers and sons are expected to attend the dinner to be held in the social hall of the Presbyterian Church in Danville. Basketball and wrestling team members will be honored at the winter sports event.

Viking Golfers Open Season

Diablo Valley College golfers face two stern tests Monday and Tuesday after starting off the season in fine style this week.

The Vikings open their Coast Conference season Monday at Stanford golf course against Menlo College— the team they tied for the Coast Conference championship last year.

Tuesday DVC gets a crack at College of San Mateo—the state junior college champions for the past four years. The match will be played down on the peninsula.

IN A FOUR-WAY match this week against Napa College, Oakland City College and City College of San Francisco, DVC picked up three wins, then added another against Santa Rosa JC Tuesday afternoon.

DVC routed Napa, 13½-1½; did the same to Oakland, 13-2; then squeezed past SF, 8½-6½.

Santa Rosa posed no problem for the Vikings, 14-1.

In the four-sided match, veteran Steve Lamphere was medalist with a 74, three over par. Lamphere is one of three DVC golfers back for a second varsity season.

Newcomer Dick Shaul and veteran Dennis Gault tied for medalist honors against Santa Rosa with 79s on the wind-swept Santa Rosa Golf and Country Club Tuesday.

Mrs. Jenkins Wins at Tilden

Mrs. Wesley Jenkins took low gross honors at the Tilden Park Women's Golf Club Guest Day tournament played last week.

Mrs. Jenkins fired an 83 to top her nearest competitor by five strokes.

Mrs. C. S. McCoy, Jr., of Orinda, finished third in the second flight with a 107-25—82.

8th Grade Cage Meet Tonight at Las Lomas Gym

Eighth grade cage teams will wind up their season under the sponsorship of the Walnut Creek Park and Recreation Department with a tournament beginning at 7 o'clock this evening at the Las Lomas High School gym.

The tourney will have each team playing three games and eight quintets participating. Each game will be 10 minutes long and the winner of the tournament must go through undefeated although it is not a strict single eliminaion setup.

The teams participating will be Walnut Creek, Parkmead, Pleasant Hill, Stanley, Fairview, Pine Grove, Inland Valley and Camino Pablo. Each has played a 10-game schedule during the past two months as a part of the after-school recreation program.

The tournament is open to the public without charge.

Pitt Is Champ; Mt. Diablo Gets Third in DVAL

If there was ever any doubt about Pittsburg's championship calibre in the DVAL it vanished Tuesday afternoon when the Pirates blew Antioch out of the water in the final period to win the game and the title by a 56-42 score.

The victory sent Pittsburg against Livermore next Tuesday to battle for a playoff berth in the Tournament of Champions scheduled for March 15, 16 and 17 at Harmon gym.

Antioch trailed by only two points, 37-35, at the three-quarter mark in the contest and then the Pirates unleashed their scoring guns and looped 19 points through the basket in the final period to win. Ten of the points were spun in by Frank Bruno who made a total of 16.

The loss dropped Antioch to second while Mt. Diablo cinched third with a 42-35 victory over its constant rival, College Park.

The victory by the Devils was a come-from-behind affair with Tim Leschinsky dropping in nine of his 12 points in the last half to spark the win. College Park had a 28-19 intermission bulge but completely lost the target in the final half, netting a toal of only 17 points in the last two periods.

The loss by the Parksters dropped them into fifth place as Clayton Valley smothered Pacifica 86-56, climbing into the fourth spot in the loop standings.

Buddy Beemer was high point man for the Clayton Valley squad as he tallied a total of 19 points. However, Herb Meeks headed all of the shooters with a total of 22 points for Pacifica.

San Ramon Eyes Share of Second in Feature Game

A share of second place is at stake this evening in Danville when San Ramon hosts Acalanes as the Foothill League winds up the 1961-62 season.

One other game is scheduled at Miramonte, where the Mats host Alhambra.

Piedmont closed out its season and ended the anticipation in the FAL race Tuesday afternoon by defeating Miramonte for the title.

San Ramon, with a torrid finish could finish in a tie with Las Lomas for second place in the FAL by defeating the Dons tonight.

FOR THE Dons, nothing is at stake except the satisfaction of keeping the Wolves out of the second spot.

Acalanes dumped San Ramon in their first meeting in Lafayette, 64-54.

The Dons have clinched fourth place in league standing already.

Tonight's game might be a good chance for coach Bert Barnett to test the boys he'll have coming back next year—and the results might be surprising.

The Dons have been an off-and-on team all year and have been a disappointment from the start. They never did get in the thick of the title chase after losing their first two games.

SAN RAMON, on the other hand, was not expected to be a great threat after a 1-14 season last year. However, with a fast finish, they knocked Las Lomas out of the title picture after the Knights had won or share the FAL crown for three straight years.

Also, the Wolves handed Piedmont a sound defeat, and a win tonight and a share of second would be a fine comeback for coach Larry DeRushia and his team.

At Miramonte tonight, the Matadors will be seeking a tie for fifth place and hoping to stay out of a deadlock for the cellar spot.

The Mats are 2-9, while Alhambra is 3-8. Del Valle finished its season Tuesday with a win and are 2-10.

Track Season Open Today

High school track moves to the center of the stage this afternoon, as the first of the spring sports to get underway.

Two non-league meets are on tap this afternoon with the Foothill League opening its season a week from today.

College Park visits Alhambra in one meet today while Las Lomas hosts Amador in Walnut Creek.

A full schedule of FAL meets is on tap next Friday afternoon.

Fine Pianist Presened by Acalanes Concert Assn.

By HELEN SCHARMER

Not too long ago a local resident complained to me about the "lack of culture" and the "provincialism" of the mid-Contra Costa County area.

I hope she heard Roy Bogaas play in piano concert at Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek recently. He was brought here by the Acalanes Community Concert Association, long known for its fostering of talent in music and the arts.

In the program notes, Roy Bogas is described as the "first pianist of top caliber to emerge from a Far-Western music school." He was a prodigy pupil of Hedwig Rosenthal in New York when he was six, and moved west in 1945. He received his training at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and later became accompanist to Yehudi Menuhin. He is a graduate of the Uinversity of California at Berkeley and a member of the extension faculty there. Next Season he will make his debut in India, to be followed by concerts in Europe.

A YOUNG artist on the threshold of what well may be a brilliant career, Bogas' playing was polished, fine and at times extremely moving. His playing in the opening piece, a Brahms rhapsody, was heavy at first.

This quality and a lack of unity with his instrument was apparent for only a few seconds.

Visual images, in spite of Walt Disney, do not often come to me when I listen to music but during the playing of Mozart's "Sonata in D Major" I could visualize a delicately filigreed fan carved from ivory that I owned once.

HIS PLAYING of Mozart was clean and precise.

In special dedication to the late Fred Freeman, Walnut Creek musician and teacher to whom the entire concert was dedicated—Bogas played the familiar Beethoven "Moonlight Sonata" with great understanding. This, to me, was the most moving part of this excellent concert.

He chose to compare the mood of this piece to that found in Alexander Scriabin's "Etude in C Sharp Minor," played immediately thereafter. This I found more passionate and quite a bit heavier in mood.

This was a lengthy and exhausting program, but the pianist showed only slight signs of fatigue toward the end.

As I look back over my notes I find such words as "melodic, magnificent" of his Rachmaninoff "Etude-Tableau"—"restful" of Debussy's "Reflections on the Water," and "bright and gay" of Feux D'artifice," Debussy once more. Most certainly this pianist can evoke feeling as well as admiration for technique and style.

THE CONCERT ended with a second encore, the stirring "Revolutionary Etude" of Rachmaninoff.

Next concert in the series is scheduled for March 8 and will bring the dance troupe of Kovach and Rabovsky to Las Lomas. They have been described as the "two most exciting dancers in a decade."

Prospective new members may attend this concert as a "bonus" for joining this season.

MEMBERSHIPS are $7 for adults and $3.50 for students.

Usually there are three concerts each season. Philip Bancroft of Walnut Creek, president of the association; Mrs. Walter Gray, YE 4-2537, or Mrs. Robert Winters, CL 4-2067 may be contacted for further information.

William Warfield, baritone will be presented in the first concert of the 1962-63 season.

Language Laboratory At Campolindo Okayed

Acalanes Union High School District trustees this week approved a call for bids for the installation of a $19,000 language laboratory for foreign language studies at the district's new Campolindo High School being built in the Rheem-Moraga area.

The district will put up $14,000 of the projected cost. The federal government has approved $5000 under the National Defense Education Act to provide the necessary balance to cover the installation.

In other action this week, trustees heard Larry Williams, member of the Canyon Elementary School Board, ask that Canyon students be allowed to continue attending Miramonte High School in Orinda.

Students from that area are scheduled to attend the new Campolido High School, starting with freshmen students next year.

Assistant Superintendent Ross Reagan observed that with the limited number of students from Canyon attending high school over the next several years, keeping Canyon students at Miramonte rather than enrolling them at Campolindo might involve additional bus expenses not warranted by the limited number of students involved.

High school board members have taken the request under advisement.

District architect Richard Bahwell reported on two building surveys and projections—one, the placement of the new gymnasium to be built on the Acalanes campus; two, the cost breakdown for a proposed swimming pool at Del Valle High.

The new Acalanes gymnasium, which will be much like the present gym at Del Valle High, may be situated in the Acalanes High parking area or north of the old existing gym.

BAHWELL reported that the basic pool costs projected for a plunge at Del Valle would be about the same figures as the pool facility built nearly a decade ago at Las Lomas High.

Bahwell emphasized, however, that because of the terrain of solid bedrock at Del Valle and the need for additional enclosures, the pool costs at Del Valle would run about $51,529 for the pool (a large pool, plus an adjacent diving pool, similar to the Las Lomas and Miramonte swimming pools), plus an additional $12,140 for decking, $2500 for pool equipment shelter, and an approximate $13,900 for unusual excavation requirements posed by the land conformation at the Del Valle site.

School trustees noted the total expense of the project and took no other action other than to reaffirm their interest in a proposed $25,000 Del Valle parent-community group fund raising project to assist eventual pool construction.

Similar parent-community drives at Las Lomas and Miramonte high schools raised $25,000 amounts towards each of those facilities.

The survey on pool construction potential at Del Valle was initiated earlier this school year when a group of Del Valle area parents approached the high school board on the possibility of building a pool with a contributing fund drive by the Del Valle area parents and residents.

Acalanes District pool facilities are used for community recreation during the summer.

Dental Aards Go to Nurse, Primer Author

Mrs. Jane Krigin and Mrs. Grace Wagner were presented the Contra Costa Dental Society's Annual Dental Award at a dinner meeting February 13 at the Concord Inn.

The annual dental award goes each year to individuals who have made an "outstanding contribution to dental health."

Dr. Louis Ellis, president of the dental society, presented the trophies.

Mrs. Krigin was selected for the award because of her leadership in the formation of student health and safety councils which now have a convention each year.

Mrs. Wagner was chosen for her contribution to dental health in the authorship of "Penny's Precious Pearl," a first grade primer.

Mrs. Krigin is a school nurse in the Mt. Diablo Unified School District; Mrs. Wagner is a first grade teacher in the Pittsburg School District.

Patrolmen Find Details Less Taxing

Sheriff Walter Young's "Patrol Division" during January handled the least amount of details since August, 1961.

The total during January was 1977. Lafayette area still remains the highest in the occurrence of criminal incidents with 741 details processed.

Sixty on-sight arrests were made by the Patrol Division during that period. In addition, 114 arrest warrants were served.

Vacation house checks dropped from a previous 912 during December to 778 during January. Some 80 other agencies received assistance from the department and other miscellaneous details were handled.

Eighth-Graders To Get Help

Eighth grade students attending elementary districts served by the Acalanes Union High School District will soon start working with their parents and high school counselors on their programs for their freshman year in high school.

Each of the Acalanes Union High School District secondary schools has scheduled an orientation meeting with parents and a followup individual counseling session with the parent and the student to plan a ninth grade program.

Subjects open to each student during his high school career will be discussed.

THE NINTH grade student-parent-counselor programming activity takes into account the student's achievement and aptitude scores disclosed in prior testing, his eighth year grades, and teacher recommendations.

This material is correlated with the student's and parent's general academic plans, the advice of the counselor, and the four-year sequence of courses offered in the high school district.

Special planning and programming materials developed by the high school counseling departments are utilized in the programming activity.

Orientation work by high school counselors with students in the area intermediate schools has generally preceded the final programming activity.

SCHEDULE for the high school parent orientation planning program, by high schools, runs as follows:

Acalanes High School serving the Lafayette Elementary District area, parent orientation night, next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Del Valle High, serving students from the Walnut Creek and Lafayette elementary districts—parent orientation meeting, March 5 at 7:30 p.m.

Las Lomas High, serving students from the Walnut Creek Elementary District, parent orientation, March 5 at 8 p.m.

MIRAMONTE High, serving students in the Orinda Elementary District, parent orientation meeting, Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Campolindo High, serving the Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga and Canyon elementary school districts, parent orientation March 12, 8 p.m., at Miramonte High School.

Campolindo High opens to an enrollment of ninth graders only in September, the fifth and newest secondary school in the Acalanes district.

Each of the parent orientation meetings for high school planning will be followed after several days by a three-way, individual conference arranged between the school counselor, the student and the parent. Conferences are planned by appointment for each student.

More than 1300 eighth graders and their parents will participate in the Acalanes Union High School District's planning sessions for ninth graders entering high school next September.

Catholic Social Service Auxiliary Names Officers

Highlight of a recent board meeting of the Catholic Social Service Auxiliary was the introduction of new officers for 1962.

Seven units representing the Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Pleasant Hill, Concord-Clayton and Martinez area form the organization.

OFFICERS from Padua unit are the Mesdames William Wade and Robert Roll, chairman and co-chairman; Fred Higgins, corresponding secretary; Raymond Trybul, treasurer; George Schmitt, recording secretary. Regina unit: the Mesdames Clifton Martin, chairman; Russell Connolley, vice-chairman; Robert Fitzpatrick, secretary; James Hannon, corresponding secretary and Edward Benney, treasurer. Pacelli unit: the Mesdames Louis Cousin, chairman; William Heim, co-chairman; Thomas Shepherd, recording secretary; Robert Brousseau, corresponding secretary and Warren Boero, treasurer. Cabrini unit: Mrs. McClintock, chairman; the Mesdames Martin O'Neill and Gordon Hay, secretary and treasurer. Angelus unit: the Mesdames J. F. DeRosa, chairman; James Moore, vice-chairman; Carl Rush, secretary; John Clark, corresponding secretary, and W. E. McCormick, treasurer. Siena unit: Mrs. Nell Lopas, chairman; Mrs. Joseph McBrien, co-chairman; Mrs. Dorothy Schumacker, secretary. Marquette unit: the Mesdames T. McCaustland, chairman; Robert Claire, recording secretary, and Clifford Jones, treasurer.

VOLUNTEER services are still uppermost with members, and include driving multi-handicapped children to and from the We-Care center in Concord. Office work, mother's helpers and chauffeuring when an urgent need arises are among other services offered. The auxiliary's annual communion breakfast is scheduled for April 28th, hosted by Cabrini unit of Walnut Creek.

Though busily engaged in individual unit projects, members center their efforts on the three annual affairs of the auxiliary. The Knights of Columbus family ice shok at the Berkeley rink in early June, the colorful Hunter trials and barbecue at the Mt. Diablo trail ride association in October and the champagne holiday boutique "Esprit de Noel" in December.

Proceeds from the affairs benefit the social service agency in Pleasant Hill, where parent-child difficulties, marital, premarital counseling, etc., are offered regardless of race or religion.

Vehicle Fee Penalty Will Go Higher

If you haven't paid for the 1962 vehicle registration, pay it before next Thursday.

The penalties are lighter when paid by then, according to Tom Bright, director of motor vehicles.

Under vehicle code laws, penalties now in force on most registration and vehicle license fees amount to 10 per cent only.

Station wagon registration fees, trailer coach license fees, and weight fees on commercial vehicles are not reduced to that level under this law.

The familiar 100 per cent penalty doubling delinquent registration and weight fees, and the 50 per cent penalty increasing the part of the fees due under the vehicle license fee law, will be applied against all delinquent registrations beginning on March 8.

Penalties on tardy nonresident service fees and electric-powered vehicle fees were not affected by the 1961 reduction.

Lesser Known Bulbs Can Be Summer Show Pieces

If summer-blooming bulbs are fewer in number than those which spring brings forth, they are nonetheless colorful. Individually, at least, the gladiolus and canna, the tuberous begonia and agapanthus are far shorter than their vernal cousins. Include dahlias and lilies in the list and there is really no comparison.

Since the likes of gladiolus and dahlia never lack for publicity, let's move some of the lesser-known bulbs into the limelight at this time. Cannas, for instance, can be the showpieces of the summer border when given a chance. Pity is that they often don't get the chance.

TROPICAL in looks (and likes), the tall blooms often grow head and shoulders above most other flowers in the garden — even delphiniums. They wallow in warmth, as many valley gardeners know, but deserve planting nearer the coast as well.

Give them rich soil and water and lift the rhizomes every other year for best results. You have pink, white, yellow, red, bronze and orange cannas to choose from.

Totally unlike the showy cannas are agapanthus — the blue lilies of the Nile. Borne in huge umbels of blue on stiff, bare stalks, they are spectacular when mass planted in city parks. In the garden, however, they are best clumped in borders or set in a tightly planted row along a walk.

Don't look for the bulbs as such. Since the strap-like leaves never die back, the plants are offered in containers by members of the California Association of Nurserymen.

THE BULB you shouldn't overlook anywhere in California is the tigridia, or Mexican shell flower. You can't really compare these lovely little bulbs with anything else in your garden experience.

Blooms are fleeeting, lasting only one day, but each bulb produces such a continuous succession of blooms in summer that the daily dying back is never noticed.

Your Garden

New Varieties Add Pleasure to Planting

The joy of bedding plants lies not alone in the ease with which we grow them, but also in the ever-changing spectrum of their new varieties. Each new year brings a good selection of exciting introductions and the year 1962 is no exception.

Far from it, as the following list from the California Association of Nurserymen would indicate.

Among the more popular new annuals which CAN members will be offering this year is the new annual dianthus bravo.

BRAVO is a 1962 all-American selection and richly deserves the honor. Bearing a mass of bright scarlet blooms on a compact framework, bravo can be used in borders, as an edging, as a bedder, or in pots.

Good new zinnias are always good news and 1962 brings us two that deserve the all-America label. One of them is giant red man, a prototype of the cactus-flowered zinnia, with tremendous scarlet blooms that measure up to six inches across.

The other is Old Mexico, a beauty of the Mexican type, with bright mahogany blooms shading gold at the tips. Mark these on your calendar and don't forget them when it comes time to set zinnias out.

Last of the all-America bedders for this year will make an unusual addition to your garden. It is dark opal, a basil no less, which should give you as much culinary pleasure in salads and cheese dishes as it does in the garden. The ornamental merit lies primarily in its striking purplish leaves and small purple flowers.

LOOKING at other new names on the CAN list, we find a new strain of extra dwarf dahlias to be sold as double pigmy early birds; a new dwarf marigold with golden flowers, flecked brown to be sold as brownie scout; a new very dwarf celosia strain known as jewel box dwarfs with a good range of colors; and the new can can petunias, a strain of extra dwarf plants with extra large, extra early ruffled blooms in a good range of colors.

There are other new petunias, too, but you can't plant everything—or can you? Your nurseryman will complete the new petunia list for you if you still have room in your garden.

Help Foreign Students; Call Local Bureau

Persons and groups who wish to assist foreign students attending school in this area may contact the Volunteer Bureau, 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek.

Needed are volunteers to provide transportation, give aid in special projects, arrange for medical, health and welfare care and share American hospitality with the visiting students.

Sponsor is the International Student Council.

Machine Operator Is Needed

Contra Costa County has an opening for duplicating machine operator. This is an opportunity for a young person to gain continuous training in the use of new machines and reproduction techniques. The pay is $341-$415 per month.

Requirements call for high school graduation and one year of experience in the operation of multilith duplicating machines.

Two years of additional experience may be substituted for two years of high school.

Tigridias in New Gardner's Checklist

Plant tigridias, cannas and other summer-blooming bulbs now.

Set out field-grown clumps of delphinium early and get as many as three separate flushes of bloom from them this year.

Plant grapes through this month. Get your nurseryman's recommendation as to the best varieties for your garden.

Dormant pruning should be completed forthwith. Roses, fuchsias, deciduous fruit trees, grapes, berries should all be pruned by now.

Sprout tuberous begonias under cover in flats of leaf mold, peat moss and sand. Use about equal parts of each.

On the tenth of November, 180 eastern professors originated this open letter to President Kennedy. On the first of December 600 Bay Area professors combined to reissue the letter.

We, the undersigned, sharing this deep concern, support another publication of this letter in the solemn hope of further calling the public and government attention to the serious issues it raises.

An Open Letter to President Kennedy

We are deeply disturbed by current developments in the field of civil defense. It appears to us that the prodigious energy of our people is being channeled into wrong directions for wrong reasons; and that continuation of this trend may be extremely dangerous to the nation and to civilization itself.

The Effect of Large Nuclear Weapons

WE are now in the era of 50 to 100 megaton bombs. According to the AEC estimate of October 1, a 100 megaton bomb, exploded in the air, would have an 18-mile radius of total destruction of ordinary structures, and would ignite most wooden buildings in a radius of 60 miles. Within that area, a large proportion of the population would be suffocated by lack of oxygen or poisoned by carbon monoxide. Basement shelters under burning buildings would be useless, as would blast shelters without a reserve air supply.

Admittedly, it may be possible to design and construct a civil defense capability to permit national survival after a massive attack with such weapons. It would entail, at the very least, permanent, deep underground placement of enough of our economy and communication, and a sufficient decentralization of public activities, to enable operation of vital services immediately after attack. It also would require enough public blast shelters to permit ready access by almost everyone on a few minutes notice, even in the cities. The cost of such a program would be comparable to the entire capital investment of the country—several thousand dollars per person—and would consume a substantial fraction of our gross national product for numbers of years. There is a serious question as to whether the Soviet Union would stand idly by while we try to make ourselves really bombproof. In addition, we believe that the prospect of living indefinitely in an underground fortress would not appeal to the nation.

The nation has not yet faced up to the real dangers of thermonuclear war. We believe that most of our people do not understand what the world would look like the day after an attack or what problems would be involved in recovering from a war which killed, injured, poisoned, and destroyed on such a large scale. Many of those who do understand have found the prospect too awful and have, therefore, put the idea from their minds.

The Results of an Inadequate Progress

We are aware that our government is trying to deal realistically with the problem of war or peace. Unfortunately, however, government encouragement of shelter construction, as interpreted by the popular press, some local CD officials, and would-be shelter manufacturers, has led to cruel deception of the people with respect to the protection which would be afforded, especially by individual fallout shelters. These shelters might be adequate in a "minor" atomic war, as could have started in 1950. Such a conservative program has little relevance to the type of large scale attack which might be anticipated in 1962.

It is undoubtedly true that such shelters in areas remote from blast centers might temporarily keep alive a certain number of people. However, the continued survival of those, and of civilization as we know it, also requires the protection of the physical basis of society—the means of production and of distribution, government and communication, etc. A program for doing that is very different from anything now being considered.

The principal danger of the present program is the false sense of security engendered. It is much like a quack cure for cancr. If we are lucky, the "treatment" may not kill us, but in the meantime, while the cancer is growing and becoming incurable, we fail to go to a reputable physician for sensible treatment. By buying a shelter program which does not shelter, and thereby believing that we can survive a thermonuclear war, we are increasing the probability of war. This probability increases both because we may be more willing to "go to the brink" if we think survival is possible and because we are less likely to devise and take any of the constructive steps which may ease tension and secure the peace.

Arguments In Favor of Civil Defense

We recognize that many sincere people support the present civil defense program for what they believe are good reasons. Space is too short to discuss these at length, but we have examined them at length and believe they are wrong.

For example, it is said that civil defense is a deterrent. If it really protected us to the extent necessary for survival it might be; but at present its only deterrent value lies in the demonstration to the Soviet Union that we expect to have a war. Even on this point, it might in fact be argued that this is more likely to precipitate a pre-emptive attack than to deter one.

It is sometimes said that we should protect ourselves against a limited nuclear war, in which, perhaps, only a few cities on each side would be destroyed. Such a war is highly unlikely. Regardless of the cause of the war, limitation would call for a degree of restraint and mutual agreement between the parties which, if obtainable in peacetime, could prevent war altogether.

There is also the "anything is better than nothing" argument. Of course, every government has responsibilities of trying to protect its citizens, even if only a relatively few of them are likely to survive a disaster. The danger is that the individual man for whom a shelter is made at his home or place of work is being made to feel significantly safer. For any given person this is almost certain to prove false.

The Moral Issues

We have not touched on the moral issues of the shelter program—the question of whether it is right to plan on "losing" our cities and the people in them when decisions of war and peace are made, the question of defending private shelters against intruders, the question of abandoning millions of injured outside while the rest of us hide underground, the question of shelters for the wealthy vs. shelters for the poor or the apartment dweller, the question of the long term effect of a shelter psychology on the values of a democratic society—these are important issues as well. We have dealt here primarily with the more pressing questions of the adequacy of civil defense and its effect on war and peace. A moral code does not exist in a vacuum. If we lose the structure of society we cannot hope to keep our moral values.

To sum up, we believe that although the present civil defense program, and in particular the construction of fallout shelters, might save a small fraction of the population in a nuclear war, this potential gain is more than offset by the fact that such activity prepares the people for the acceptance of thermonuclear war as an instrument of national policy. We believe that this acceptance would substantially increase the likelihood of war—a war which would be permanently fatal to our democratic society, even if not to all of us. The American people are capable of great effort and sacrifice. We believe this effort should be directed toward a positive program for peace with freedom. This is bound to be at least as difficult and time consuming as any preparation for war, and will require the highest type of leadership for success. At the present time the nation is not ready to consider such a program, largely because of widespread lack of understanding of just how catastrophic war today would be. We call upon you, Mr. President, to make this plain and then to lead the nation forward on a race towards peace.

Questions Help Young Scientists

A method of teaching science that has attracted nationwide attention will be demonstrated to Bay Area educators at Walnut Creek Tuesday and Wednesday.

Twelve sixth grade Walnut Creek children, not exclusively budding scientists but representing a cross-section of ability and talents, will assist Dr. J. Richard Suchman, director of the Illinois study in Inquiry Training at the University of Illinois.

The Illinois Inquiry Training is predicted on the thesis that children can be trained to do more production questioning, said Suchman.

Suchman will demonstrate this give-and-take method of investigation into scientific matters on four occasions—twice at a workshop for a group of specialists, also at a public meeting in Concord and, on March 10, at the conference of the National Science Teachers Association in San Francisco.

Workshop sessions will be held at the American Red Cross Building, 2121 Ygnacio Valley Road, Walnut Creek, Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The attendance is limited to 60.

A demonstration and explanation of inquiry training, Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Concord School, 2730 Salvio Street, will be open to all interested persons.

The workshop in inquiry training is provided under the National Defense Education Act and is sponsored by Contra Costa County Superintendent of Schools Floyd Marchus.

Participants will attend from Contra Costa and Solano Counties, Vallejo, South San Francisco and San Jose city schools and the University of California.

A similar workshop will be conducted by Dr. Suchman next Thursday and Friday at San Leandro for Alameda County.

Dr. Suchman's techniques in inquiry training resulted from research carried on at the University of Illinois under a grant from the Office of Cooperative Research, Department of Education, Health and Welfare.

Braille Course Will Use Red Cross Building

A course in braille will be sponsored by the Acalanes Adult Education Center, beginning Monday at 1 p.m. at the American Red Cross Building, 2121 Ygnacio Valley Road, Walnut Creek.

Students will learn to become certified braillists.

The class is patterned after the braille classes operated by the Red Cross in Berkeley.

The operation differs in that the center will conduct the program in Walnut Creek with the assistance of the Red Cross which will provide the facilities for holding the class.

Mrs. Laura Lott, of Lafayette will teach the class. She is a certified braillist and has had experience in the Berkeley Red Cross braille program.

William Teutschel, Acalanes Adult Education director, said, the class was prompted by several interested people in the present adult education night class, "Aids for the Visually Handicapped."

Adult students in this class, most of whom are parents of visually handicapped children, were "most interested in beginning a day class for adults that will eventually supply certified braillists for the community."

The Walnut Creek Elementary School District is presently operating special classes for the blind or visually handicapped for the general area of central Contra Costa County.

'Right now these students are at the elementary level and it is rather difficult to get enough braille material for these students," said Mrs. Lott.

Since the adult braille class will attempt to teach a highly developed skill, class size will be limited. Only persons who can attend class regularly and handle ten hours per week of home study are encouraged to register.

Information regarding the class may be had by phoning the Acalanes Education Center.

Women Voters View State

The League of Women Voters of Concord - Diablo Valley discussed the state's role in local government next week.

Mrs. L. S. Germain, chairman, said the financial relationships of state and local governments will be discussed. This is a two-year study, said Mrs. Germain, and will enable the league to seek ways of improving state laws regulating local municipalities, counties and special districts.

Meetings will be held Tuesday, 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. J. Frank Valle-Reistra, 140 Cora Court, Walnut Creek; Wednesday, 9:45 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Alan Laird, 860 Sibert Court, Lafayette; and Thursday, 1:30 p.m., at the home of Miss Mabel Milhan, 3144 San Ramon Road, Concord.

League meetings are open to all women of central Contra Costa County, said Mrs. C. W. Funk, president.

Those wishing to attend may call Mrs. Sam Harris, or Mrs. George Hearne.

CD Committee Will Discuss School Shelters

The County School Administrators Civil Defense Committee will meet on Tuesday from 9:15 a.m. to noon at the Concord Recreation Center, 2974 Salvio Street, Concord.

Donald B. Adams, chairman of the planning committee, is coordinator for the Sheldon School District and principal of the Olinda School, El Sobrante.

Will H. Perry Jr., director of the County Disaster Office, will lead a discussion on "Federal Subsidization of School Shelters," the "Attorney General's Opinion on School Shelters" and "Current School CD Problems."

Farm Bureau Women Will Hear Speaker

Mrs. Stella Kanouse, Farm Bureau woman's state field secretary, will speak to the Contra Costa Farm Bureau women today at 10 a.m. at the old schoolhouse, Live Oak.

Hostesses will be Mesdames J. T. Crockett, chairman; Neil Sterud, Einar Berg, Nola Heaney and Lucy Lindsey.

Mrs. Lorens Foard of Danville, county chairman, will report on the progress of the meat-cooking school to be held May 2.

Catholic Health Council Formed; Meeting Planned

The formation of a Catholic school health council for Contra Costa County was announced by Mrs. Robert D. Case of Martinez, coordinator and chairman.

"For the first time we will be able to plan and coordinate the health programs for all Catholic schools in the county," Mrs. Case said.

Two subcommittees were appointed at this first meeting.

Sister Vibiana, C.S.J., administrative chairman of vision screening for Catholic schools, Sister Helen Mary, C.S.J., administrative chairman of overall policy, will develop a school health handbook with the help of Mrs. Case.

All Catholic schools in the county will appoint a representative and an alternate by the next meeting, March 15 at the Queen of All Saints School in Concord.

County IBM Room Plans Now Ready

The board of supervisors announced plans and specifications were approved for the remodeling of the IBM room in the Court House Building in Martinez.

The work consists of providing partitions, a special type of raised floor, air-conditioning equipment, and electrical services to accommodate the data processing machines.

The new equipment will be installed in the remodeled spaces and is expected to greatly speed up the processing of tax, assessment and election rolls. With the rapid population growth of the county, the present equipment will soon be beyond its economical capacity.

Bids for the proposed work will be received by the board of supervisors until February 27 at 11 a.m. Work will begin by March 12, and will be completed in June.
